BRITISH-JAPANESE FLEET GOES TO MEET VICTORIOUS GERMANS

Powerful Vessels Reported on Way to South Pacific Following Sinking of One British Cruiser and Probable Loss of Flagship Off Chilean Coast.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 4 (via London).—The Vossische Zeitung publishes a dispatch from Sofia, saying that Turkish warships have sunk the Russian battleship Sinop.

The Russian battleship Sinop was laid down in 1894 and launched at Sebastopol in 1897. She displaced 11,250 tons. She had six 12-inch, seven 6-inch and four 3-pounder guns, and her complement was 650 men.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—American Minister Fletcher, at Santiago, Chile, in a dispatch today reporting the naval engagement off the coast of Chile, says it is reported that the British cruiser Good Hope escaped with the Glasgow and Otranto.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 4, via London.—A fleet of German warships has gathered off the Aland Islands in the Baltic Sea, north-east of Stockholm and opposite the entrance to the Gulf of Finland. They evidently were proceeding north and have stopped to await orders.

DOVER, via London, Nov. 4.—The report is being circulated that the German fleet has come out from its base. It is also reported from Dunkirk that four battleships and four cruisers have put to sea from Kiel.

VALPARAISO, Chile, Nov. 4.—A powerful Anglo-Japanese fleet is reported on its way to South Pacific waters to engage the five German cruisers which, in an hour's battle off the coast of Chile Sunday evening, defeated three British men-of-war and an armored transport.

The British cruiser Monmouth, with a crew of 655 men, was sunk and all her men are believed to have been lost, as a heavy gale prevented the launching of boats. The cruiser Good Hope, flagship of Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock, carrying 900 men, was last seen afire, and is believed also to have been sunk. The cruiser Glasgow and the transport Otranto reached port, severely damaged.

Admiral Graf von Snee, commander of the German fleet in Pacific waters, arrived here yesterday morning and made the following report concerning the engagement, which occurred off Coronel:

"On Sunday, Nov. 1, between 6 and 7 o'clock in the evening, during a heavy rain and rough weather off Coronel, we sighted the British men of war Good Hope, Monmouth and Glasgow and the armored transport Otranto. An engagement ensued immediately. All the ships opened a brisk cannonade with all their artillery.

"The Monmouth was sunk and the Good Hope, after a great explosion

Food for thought

"From little acorns tall oaks grow." This mighty transformation of nature's strength applies to advertising as well. A few years ago that little store "just around the corner" ventured to experiment in a very modest way with newspaper advertising. Today this same little store (and hundreds of others) occupies large and imposing quarters, and is still advertising, but not modestly, as the feeling of "uncertainty" has been supplanted with a feeling of confidence, because of judicious, profitable advertising.

Our progressive merchants, inspired with this confidence, placed more advertising in the POST-DISPATCH alone Tuesday of this week than in all four of its competitors—the Globe, Republic, Times and Star—combined, on the same day. The score was:

POST-DISPATCH alone 77 Columns
The Globe, Republic, Times and Star, all four of its competitors, combined. 74 Columns

This makes 72 days this year that the POST-DISPATCH has carried as much or more display advertising from St. Louis merchants than its four competitors—the Globe-Democrat, Republic, Times and Star—combined, carried on the same days.

Dispel your doubts; follow the action of the merchant "just around the corner;" profit as he did, does and will continue to do as long as he advertises—by using—

REPUBLICANS SWEEP ST. LOUIS BY 3000 TO 25,000 MAJORITY; SIDENER LEADS THE TICKET; HOLTCAMP, KIMMEL, MEEKER WIN

Democratic House Majority Is Estimated at 30

CONTROL OF CONGRESS IS UNCHANGED

Administration Party Loses Heavily in Lower Branch but Senate Margin Will Remain About Same; Progressive Vote Absorbed Nearly Everywhere by Republicans, Who Gain Over Country.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Possible reduction of the present Democratic majority in the lower house of Congress from 141 to 30 was the estimate of Democratic National Committee officials here this afternoon, after a White House conference with the President and Secretary Tumulty.

Seventy-five Congressional districts were still to be heard from. Confidence was expressed that control of the House would not be lost.

The varying reports of the Senate contest in the California, Kansas and Colorado gave no promise of reducing the Democratic plurality of 10.

Reports to the National Democratic Committee were said to indicate the election of James D. Phelan of California to succeed Senator Perkins, a Republican, and the re-election of Senators Newlands and Thomas in Nevada and Colorado. In Kansas a close contest for the seat of Senator Bristow seemed to be between Representative Murdock, Progressive, and former Senator Curtis, Republican, leaving Representative Nesley, the Democratic candidate, behind.

75 Districts to Hear From.
At noon with the 75 Congressional delegates missing, the election of 189 Democrats, 187 Republicans and 3 Progressives was reported. The complexion of the House is 288 Democrats, 129 Republicans, 16 Progressives and 6 vacancies. The new returns showed a gain of 34 Republicans. It takes 218 for a majority in the House. To fulfill the predictions of Democratic leaders of a majority of 30 it is necessary for a majority of the unreported districts to be Democratic. They are claimed by the leaders.

Victory, Says Burleson.
"We have won a great victory," said Postmaster-General Burleson after a conference with President Wilson and other Democratic leaders during which the returns were tabulated. He claimed the Democrats would control the next House by a majority of between 29 and 45.

In a long distance telephone talk between Roger Sullivan, Democratic candidate for Senator in Illinois, and Thomas Pence of the Democratic National Committee at noon, Sullivan claimed he had been elected.

In almost every case there was a decisive falling off in the Progressive vote, with the conspicuous exception of California, which apparently has re-elected Hiram Johnson, its Progressive Governor.

Republican gains were made in every section of the country and leaders of that party asserted that the tariff issue has been instrumental in bringing about that result. Some of the more optimistic of the leaders declared today that there was a chance that the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives would be overturned, but there appeared to be small prospect of such an outcome.

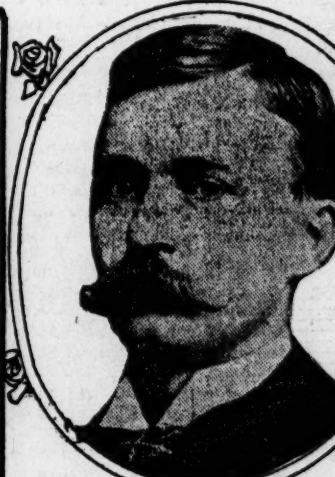

The result of State elections was less definite. In a number of cases Democratic administrations were overturned, but these were offset by instances in which the reverse was the case. Republican leaders were elated, however, by the showing made in New York, where District Attorney Charles S. Whitman was elected to succeed Gov. Glynn, the Democratic incumbent, by what bid fair to be a record vote. In Pennsylvania there was a large increase in the Republican vote.

Senators Elected.

SIDENER'S FRIENDS HEAR HE IS TO RUN FOR MAYOR IN 1917

HOWARD SIDENER, who led the Republican ticket yesterday in his race for re-election as Prosecuting Attorney, according to his friends, has informed them of his intention of running for the nomination for Mayor in 1917, if nothing intervenes. Sidener has been before the public in many political contests, and has been defeated only once, and that was for Circuit Attorney in 1912.

He appears to have a large personal following, and always has been able to win Republican nominations in the face of the opposition of the party machine. When he ran for the Republican nomination for Circuit Attorney in 1912 the machine opposed him, but he won. A majority of the members of the City Committee opposed his renomination in the August primaries, but he defeated Arthur Bader by a decisive majority.

Sidener was elected Prosecuting Attorney four years ago.

His opponent in yesterday's election was Walter A. Kelly, a blind lawyer.

WARD 28 ONLY ONE TO VOTE FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

The Thirteenth Gave Largest Majority Against Amendment 13.

The woman suffrage amendment, which was the thirteenth proposition on the constitutional ballot, received a hard blow in St. Louis, the majority against it being 57,135. The vote for the amendment was 26,267, and against it 83,502.

The Twenty-eighth Ward was the only one in which the amendment carried, and there the majority was only 81. While the women declared that they were not superstitious because their amendment was No. 13, it is significant that the Thirteenth Ward cast the heaviest vote against the amendment in the vote against the amendment was 526, and 188 for it.

The suffrage amendment suffered particularly heavy adverse blows in the brewery wards. Many voters were of the opinion that the enfranchisement of the women would ultimately result in the triumph of the cause of State-wide prohibition, and this is believed by the leaders of the suffrage campaign to account for the heavy vote against the amendment in the brewery wards.

Heavy Vote Against First.
The majority against the first constitutional amendment was 70,081. This amendment provided for the restricted use of the initiative, although its ostensible object was to prevent a resubmission of the single tax proposition. The returns from the State probably will Continued on Page 3, Column 7.

Turks Seize Shipping and Extinguish the Sea Lights

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The Turkish authorities, according to a Reuters Telegram Co. dispatch from Constantinople, via Sofia, have begun to seize the shipping lying off Constantinople. The Porte also has ordered the extinction of the lighthouses in the Mediterranean littoral.

Delaware Republicans Elect Congressman and State Ticket.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 4.—Secretary of State Thomas W. Miller, Republican, son of Gov. Miller, was yesterday elected to Congress over Frank Brocken, Democrat, the present incumbent, by a plurality of about 200. The Republican State ticket was elected by about the same plurality.

"DRYS" CLAIM OREGON, ARIZONA AND COLORADO

Prohibition Leaders Also Say They Will Have Majority in Illinois Assembly.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Three Western states were aligned in the dry column yesterday, according to latest returns. Oregon, Arizona and Colorado voted for state-wide prohibition by close margins according to anti-liquor people. In addition the claim was made by anti-saloon workers here that the majority of Illinois legislators, as a result of the election, are "dry" in sentiment.

National Prohibition headquarters here professed most interest in the Arizona outcome, but admitted no more information than that furnished by press returns, which estimated a majority for anti-liquor principles. The Anti-Saloon League and the W. C. T. U. claimed victory in Colorado.

A majority of 10,000 was evident for prohibition in Oregon on the face of early returns.

Ohio, however, went overwhelmingly against prohibition, as did California and Washington.

Republican Wins in Home District of the President

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 4.—President Wilson's home congressional district, the Fourth of New Jersey, has elected Elijah C. Hutchinson, Republican, to succeed Congressman Allan B. Walsh, Democrat, by about 2000 plurality.

In a veritable landslide, the Republicans elected their city ticket in St. Louis yesterday. The complete vote from the 474 precincts, tabulated exclusively by the Post-Dispatch, show majorities ranging from 3000 to 25,000. The Democrats elected only one Congressman, three members of the Legislature, four Justices of the Peace and four Constables.

The Democratic politicians attributed their overwhelming defeat to three causes—the hard times cry used with much effect by the Republicans, the county unit proposition which brought out an extra heavy Republican vote and the recent decision of the Supreme Court which put clubs of every description where liquor is dispensed on the same footing as the saloon, with the resultant Sunday lid.

The home rule police law—the only one of the two home rule measures on which police returns were tabulated—carried in St. Louis by the unexpectedly small majority of about 500. It was regarded as practically certain that the vote in the State was strongly against the police and excise home rule laws, and that complete returns would show them to be decisively defeated.

Total Vote About 124,000.
The total Democratic and Republican vote in St. Louis was about 119,000. The Progressive party vote disappeared almost entirely. Arthur N. Sager for United States Senator on the Progressive ticket polled only about 1600 votes.

His vote exceeded 100 in only three wards of the city, and the highest vote in any ward was only 250. In Kansas City Sager ran second to Stone, leading Akins the Republican candidate. The Socialist vote, which has not yet been tabulated, was estimated at about 8000.

The majority against the county unit bill was 74,352. This law was passed by the last Legislature, and the referendum was invoked against it, suspending its operation. Large banners were displayed all over the city yesterday, declaring that the approval of the county unit bill by the voters meant immediate State-wide prohibition. The Democratic campaign leaders said that the prohibition scare—although the bill in no way affected St. Louis—resulted in bringing out many Republican votes that otherwise would have been cast.

Howard Sidener, Republican candidate for Prosecuting Attorney, standing for re-election, had the distinction of leading his party ticket. His majority was over 25,000 over Walter A. Kelly, the Democratic candidate. Louis Alt, for Licenses Collector, had a majority of more than 25,000 over Dennis P. O'Brien, Democrat.

Karl Kimmel, Republican candidate had the lowest Republican vote on the city wide ticket, with a majority of only 547 votes over Glendy H. Arnold, who led the Democratic ticket. George H. Shields, Republican, had a majority of 15,573 over John J. O'Brien, who ran on the Democrats' ticket.

Charles W. Holtcamp, for Probate Judge, was re-elected by a majority of more than 14,000 over Edward A. Feehan the Democratic candidate.

The majorities of all the other Republican candidates for the more important offices exceeded 12,000.

Igoe Wins by Over 1900.

The Republican gain one Congressman from St. Louis by the election of Leonidas C. Dyer in the Twelfth District over John P. Collins, William L. Igoe, Democrat, was re-elected in the Eleventh District by a majority of more than 1200 over Harry A. Hamilton, the Republican candidate. Collins lost to Dyer by about 2300 votes.

Jacob E. Meeker, Republican, was elected in the Tenth District, and will succeed Richard Bartholdt, Republican, Meeker's majority over Francis M. Curlee, Democrat, was more than 11,000 in the city. It was increased by the Republican majority from St. Louis County, which is included in the Tenth District.

on board, took fire. Her subsequent fate is unknown owing to darkness having set in.

"The Glasgow and the Otranto also were damaged, but the darkness prevented our obtaining knowledge of the extent of it.

"Our ships, the Scharnhorst and Nuernberg, were not damaged. The Gneisenau had two men wounded. The rest of our ships also were undamaged."

The German fleet consisted of the cruisers Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, Nuernberg, Leipzig and Bremen.

"The action lasted nearly one hour," the German report said, "and it was only discontinued at nightfall. The English were forced to give way. The Good Hope was so badly damaged that she was unable to resist and could only make her escape protected by the darkness. Between her funnels the result of the big explosion could be detected.

"The Monmouth under identical conditions tried to escape, but was followed by a small cruiser and sunk with a few shots.

Gale Prevents Launching of Lifeboats.

"Owing to the hurricane that was blowing no boats could be lowered and consequently there was a terrible loss of life.

"It is supposed that the Glasgow and the Otranto, which were badly damaged, were able to make their escape owing to their speed and the darkness."

"That the Germans were able to sink or scatter the British squadron with only minor damage to their own ships and a casualty list of only two wounded, is a subject of wonder.

The Scharnhorst, Gneisenau and Nuernberg were still in the harbor early today coaling and provisioning in preparation for steaming away later in the day. It is supposed they will relieve the cruisers Leipzig and Bremen, which have the Glasgow and Otranto bottled up in the port of Talcahuano, eight miles northwest of Concepcion. It would seem like madness for these British ships to leave this haven of refuge and it is likely that they will be dismantled and interned unless a superior British and Japanese fleet should go to their relief.

Germans Opened Fire When Six Miles Away.

The German Admiral, in noting the escape of the Glasgow and Otranto, says it was due to their speed and the darkness. Details of the fight picked up from informal conversation with German officers who came ashore from the warships, show that the Germans, owing to the superior range of the guns on the armored cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, opened fire when six miles away. As the ships closed and the range came down to a distance of four miles, the British ships were able to reply, but by that time they were already seriously damaged. The Germans declare the British fought heroically but that their artillery was ineffective against the superior weight of metal that the Germans were able to pour from the more modern guns of the armored cruisers.

It is stated, however, that the light German cruisers pluckily closed in on the British and took part in the battle. One of them, it appears from the official report, gave the Monmouth her death blow as, crippled and in flames, she tried to escape.

In naval circles here it is said that the action took place 20 miles off St. Maria Island, whence the flashes of guns could be seen but no detonation heard.

All British steamers in ports in this vicinity are remaining at anchor temporarily, as the result of the naval battle.

The Gneisenau and Scharnhorst were perforated in various parts by shells during the battle, but the injuries were of no consequence.

Monmouth and Good Hope Old Ships; Good Hope Largest of Those Engaged

The British cruisers Good Hope, Monmouth and Glasgow were under command of Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock, and had been searching the coast of South America for several weeks with the object of engaging the German cruisers which had been destroying British merchant vessels.

The British cruiser Monmouth was 490 feet long and 66 feet beam, and of 3800 tons displacement. She carried 14 six-inch guns, eight three-inch guns, three three-pounders and was fitted with two 18-inch torpedo tubes. Her complement was 555 men. The Monmouth was built in 1899.

The Good Hope was the flagship of the squadron. She was 500 feet long, 71 feet beam and displaced 14,100 tons. She represented the British nation at the Jamestown Exposition in 1907. Her armament consisted of two 9.2-inch guns, 16 six-inch guns, 14 three-inch guns, three three-pounders and two 18-inch torpedo tubes. She had a complement of 800 men. The Good Hope was built 13 years ago.

The light cruiser Glasgow was built in 1900. She was 430 feet long, 47 feet beam and displaced 400 tons. She had a complement of 376 men. Her armament consisted of two six-inch guns, eight 3.5-inch and six 6-inch guns. They also carried two 18-inch torpedo tubes. Sir Christopher Cradock, who commanded the squadron, was in charge of the British fleet in Mexican waters at the time American marines occupied Vera Cruz.

The German armored cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau are sister ships of 11,000 tons. Both were built in 1906 and are 460 feet long on the water line. They have a complement of 765 men. Each of the two vessels carries eight 5.5-inch and six 6-inch guns, twenty 24-pounders and four machine guns. Each has four torpedo tubes.

The Scharnhorst and the Gneisenau on Sept. 22 last bombarded and destroyed Papete, the principal town and port of the French island of Tahiti in the Society Group in the Pacific. They also sank the French gunboat Zelee in Papete harbor.

The Nuernberg is a small cruiser of 3540 tons and carries 396 men. She has ten 4.1-inch guns, eight 6-pounders, four Neither the British Admiralty list nor any of this year's British warships contain a British warship of the name of Otranto. There is, however, a British steamship of that name, which was last reported at Montevideo, Sept. 9. It is possible that the British Squadron took over this vessel as a collier or transport and manned her with guns and a crew. She is a vessel of 7433 tons.

Russians Cross Turkish Frontier and Take a Number of Towns

PETROGRAD, Nov. 4.—An official communication from the staff of the Russian army in the Caucasus, given out in this city today, says that Russian troops have crossed the Turkish frontier, driving back the enemy's advance guards and taking a number of towns.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The Athens correspondent of the Daily Telegraph sends the following dispatch: "British destroyers on Tuesday were obliged to interfere outside the entrance to the Gulf of Smyrna to save two American steamers whose fires two Turkish gunboats were trying to put out with the intention of retreating from the ensuing conflict the Turkish vessels were sunk."

The Secretary of the Admiralty announces that a combined British and French squadron bombarded the Dardanelles forts at long range at daybreak yesterday morning. The forts replied, but no ships were hit. Only one shot fell alongside them.

The statement adds that the damage to the forts cannot be estimated, but that a great explosion, accompanied by a number of prisoners.

Czar and War Minister Go to Front; Germans on Offensive in East Prussia

PETROGRAD, Nov. 4.—Emperor Nicholas yesterday departed for the front, accompanied by Gen. Soukhomlinoff, the Minister of War. An official communication from the Russian general staff, made public last night, says: "On the East Prussian front the Germans everywhere have adopted the offensive. Our troops have advanced in some districts and in one place have taken two guns, a searchlight and a number of prisoners."

"Beyond the Vistula to the northwest of Politz our troops have advanced without any considerable fighting and have occupied Schadek, Lask and Rosprza. On the front from Rodoszcz and Klele the enemy is retiring in the direction of Vloscow. At Andreyew, further to the south of Klele, the Austrians made a more stubborn stand, but were repulsed along the greater part of the front."

Allies Regain Lost Ground in France; Germans Abandon Guns in Belgium

PARIS, Nov. 4.—The War Office's official announcement, issued this afternoon, says: "On our left wing to the north, the situation shows no change as compared to yesterday. The enemy has drawn back on the right bank of the Yser. We have recaptured Lombertzyde. The Germans occupy on the left bank of the Yser nothing more than the head of a half-way between Dixmude and the Neuport. They have abandoned, in addition to prisoners and wounded men, a considerable quantity of war material, including pieces of artillery which were held immovable by the mud."

"Between Dixmude and the Yser the fighting has continued with alternate advances and withdrawals, but with the general result that the allied forces have made perceptible progress."

"Between the Yser and the region of Arras there has been cannonading and minor engagements."

"Between the region of Arras and the Oise we have made an advance to the east of Le Queuxy-en-Santerre as far as the heights of Parvillers."

"On the center, the German attack which developed on the right bank of the Aisne in the region of Vailly and which resulted in our losing the first slope to the north of Vailly and to the north of Craonne, was not continued yesterday. A counter attack by our forces brought again into our possession a portion of the lost ground."

Germans Attacks Repulsed. A violent cannonading and spirited German attacks were repulsed on the heights of the highway Des Dames and in the vicinity of Rheims. There has been no happening of importance between Rheims and the Meuse nor in the Woivre districts.

"On our right wing, in Lorraine, there is nothing new to report."

The following official communication was issued last night:

"The only advice received this evening concerns the region at the northeast of Vailly, where we have counter-attacked and retaken the farm of Metz in the region of the Four-de-Metz. Saint Hubert and the Argonne, where a German attack has been repulsed and we have gained some ground."

What the Belgian official communication designated as the "precipitate retreat" of the Germans before the advance of our troops on the Yser River in Belgium was pleasing news to Parisians today, even though previous developments had given the hope that this soon would be the case.

Significance of the move is the chief topic of discussion. Opinions differ somewhat as to the import of the withdrawal of the Germans, who, in falling back, it was stated, suffered considerable losses.

Germans Not Pushed Far. There is also much speculation as to the destination of the Germans, as the Belgian communication merely stated that they were retreating toward the east. The fact that the allies retained in this section the positions they occupied the day before would seem to indicate that the Germans had not been pushed very far.

Gen. Berthaut, the military critic, in his comment on the news did not regard the retreat as a well-defined victory for the allies. To him it appears more like a falling back as the result of exhaustion and because the Germans found it impossible to remain any longer in the inundated country. He pointed out that the Belgians scarcely had been obliged to withdraw to the railroad from Dixmude to Neuport in consequence of the inundations.

What appeared more important to Gen. Berthaut was the advance south from Dixmude. This is the part of the Belgian front already much disputed, which extends from Dixmude to the east of Ypres.

Lieutenant-Colonel Roussel, the critic of the Petit Parisien, however, viewed the retreat from the Yser in another light and said it was more than a simple check.

"The retreat, in fact, is partial," he wrote, "but it is not the less significant."

Not only did the French and English yesterday repulse numerous attacks of the Germans, including a particularly violent assault by the enemy in the vicinity of the Yser River, but they began several vigorous and successful offensive movements. One of these was in the region of Dixmude, the allies debouching from that point, and at the same time from Knoeks and Noord-schoote.

The allies, after the failure of the efforts of the enemy in this section, have lost no time in an attempt to deal a hard blow before the Germans have a chance to recuperate. It is admitted that in the North the invaders gave their best efforts to break through the allied lines, which, however, held firm. Although there have been numerous estimates of the German losses in the fight on the Yser, the latest figures, officially given out by the Belgians, appear to be the most reasonable. The official Belgian statement places the loss at 80,000, of which 10,000 are dead and the rest are prisoners or wounded.

The submarine D-5, which was built in 1911, was 150 feet long. She had a speed of 15 knots above the water and 10 knots submerged.

The Exchange Telegraph Co.'s Lowestoft correspondent says: "The battle of the sea is now being fought on the coast of England. The prolonged inactivity of the larger units of the German fleet has been broken by a raid on the coast of England. The tactics of the retreating German squadron in dropping floating mines in its track and delaying pursuit are exciting criticism here, but experts realize that the mines in question were probably of a type recognized as legitimate by the Hague convention."

The official reports from Belgian headquarters are becoming more positive in their assertions that the enemy is preparing to withdraw from his hard won position on the southwest coast of Belgium. Nieupoort has been evacuated, but not before the city had become an untenable ruin.

The battle of the sand dunes may now be said to be history, as in London it is considered as hardly likely that the Germans again will attempt to move in that direction, as the flooding of the country has made it virtually worthless as a battle ground.

U. S. South American Trade Safer If Allies Win, Prof. Usher Says

We Now Do Business There Through Friendly Understanding With England, Which Might or Might Not Continue With Germany.

FROM the standpoint of South American trade, it is to the interest of the United States that England, France and Russia should win the present European war, Prof. Roland G. Usher declared today to a Post-Dispatch reporter. Prof. Usher, one of the best known members of the faculty of Washington University, is the author of "Pan-Germanism."

Prof. Usher lectured at the university Monday afternoon on "The Rediscovery of South America," and his interview was an amplification of the views he then expressed.

"In discussing the situations which may grow out of the war," Prof. Usher said, "I wish it to be clear that I am not saying what any nation intends to do. I do not know what any nation intends to do. I am not saying that any of the nations now at war has any definite intention in relation to the matters I am discussing. They have other things to think about."

"I am trying to tell what it will be possible for the winner of this war to do, in relation to the Monroe Doctrine, to South American trade. The thing that is possible is the thing that we must take into consideration."

Can Cut Off Our Trade. "So, considering what is possible, I say that the winner of this war will be in a position to cut off our trade with South America, a trade whose possibilities we are just beginning to realize."

"Either England or Germany, whichever wins the war, can do this. But England, which already controls the ocean and which could have stopped our South American trade in the past, Americans who suspect us on account of the Monroe Doctrine, of wishing to conquer them. South America, in fact, might prefer to have commercial relations with a country which it did not consider likely to conquer it politically."

Depends on Others' Ships. "If England is conquered and loses its merchant marine—the power to take every ship away from the conquered nation—the United States could then trade only with countries to which German ships would carry our goods. We are now largely dependent on England as a carrier, but as I have stated, we have a friendly understanding with England. Our people have become so used to that understanding, and the condition which exists under it, that they hardly realize that they could, in a perfectly peaceful way, be deprived of access to the world's markets. But that very thing is possible."

In his lecture, Prof. Usher argued that South America would offer a more promising field for European exploitation, after the war, than Africa, where all the powers will try, as far as they can, to preserve their present holdings. But the only power he is interested in helping the United States to protect is the Panama Canal and its trade with South America.

Either Can Beat Us. "Now, which can win, we will be capable of coming to the western hemisphere and doing what it likes. As I said before, it is not a question of intention, but of possibility. If Germany can beat the English fleet, she can beat us. If England can beat Germany, she can beat us."

"The United States enjoys its present access to South America not by virtue of its own navy or merchant marine, but by virtue of the power of the United States Navy."

Busy Izzet Pasha, Turkey's Pooh-Bah, to Command Army

BERLIN, via The Hague and London, Nov. 4.—The Frankfurter Zeitung publishes a dispatch from Vienna saying that Torgut Pasha has been appointed Commander in Chief of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus, and that Izzet Pasha and Shukry Pasha have taken command of the Turkish armies. A large number of Turkish vessels and recently purchased merchantmen have been changed into auxiliary cruisers, the Vienna dispatch says.

Izzet Pasha, in the last four years, has held the posts of Minister of War, Commander in Chief of the Turkish forces and chief of the general staff of the War Office. Dispatches from Turkey the early part of this year spoke of a plot to place him on the throne of Albania.

Shukry Pasha was at one time military commander of Adrianople and later Minister of Public Instruction. He took a prominent part in the last war against Bulgaria.

Britain Buys Copper and Releases Two Italian Ships. LONDON, Nov. 4.—Two Italian steamers carrying cargoes of copper from the United States to Italy, which were detained at Gibraltar, have been released after the purchase of their cargoes by the British Government.

The case of the American ship Kroonland, bound from New York for Naples and Greece with a cargo of copper, is still under consideration.

AMERICA IS NOW LEADING IN MEDICAL DISCOVERIES

The discovery of the new nerve tonic, Tona Vita, places America ahead of the world in another branch. In fact, it is one of the first medical discoveries that can be said to be typically American, and it is on a par with other great American inventions such as the telephone and telegraph.

Tona Vita has been a discovery that has only appeared to a few by any means, for there is scarcely a man or woman in America who cannot benefit by it if they would. It came at a time when it looked as though the health of the whole nation was going to be undermined by the latest disease, namely, nervous debility.

This is a comparatively new ailment, or rather it is one that in recent years has become general enough to merit particular attention of doctors and dentists. It is a worst case of the nervous system, which reacts in other organs in the body, eventually getting in the weakest. Consequently, it may be said that any symptoms may denote its presence. The most general indications, however, are: excessive nervousness; susceptibility to sickness; broken and restless sleep; being easily tired; loss of appetite and weight; or a feeling of being generally run-down.

Copper Leads in Kansas for Governor; Senate Race Close

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 4.—Estimates based on partial returns from 40 out of 106 counties in Kansas indicate Arthur Capper, Republican, has been chosen Governor by a plurality of 20,000. Charles Curtis, Republican, and George A. Neeley, Democrat, are running a close race for Senator. Congressman Murdock's friends, however, contend late returns will give their candidate a victory.

Republicans Carry Hawaii; Prince Cupid Is Re-Elected

HONOLULU, Nov. 4.—The Republicans were successful in the election held here yesterday, winning the territorial and municipal offices with a few exceptions. J. K. Kalamianalea (Prince Cupid) was re-elected delegate to Congress by 2000 plurality.

DON'T DYE GRAY HAIR LET AIR RESTORE IT

Don't let gray hair make you prematurely old—keep young by making your hair young. All you need do is to use Hay's Hair Health.

Not a dye. Does not work like a dye. It contains good old-fashioned, harmless ingredients which stimulate, nourish and prepare the hair for the action of a certain other ingredient which, when applied, actually causes the action of the hair to restore natural color to the hair. It is so positively sure that your hair absolutely cannot help taking on the beautiful dark shade you so much desire. Hay's Hair Health also brings back the life and healthy luster that nature gave it, and best of all, no one will know you are using anything.

All the druggists in St. Louis who sell hair preparations, and the Post-Dispatch, say that it is the most popular preparation ever brought to the attention of gray haired people. They claim to be selling more of it than all other preparations of similar nature put together. You can buy it in 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles. It is made by the Phil Hay Specialties Company, Newark, N. J.—ADV.

REPUBLICAN IS CHOSEN GOVERNOR IN WISCONSIN

La Follette Candidate Runs Poor Third; McGovern Goes to the Senate.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 4.—Returns from Wisconsin, while far from being complete, indicate that Emmanuel L. Philipp, Republican, of Milwaukee, has defeated Judge John C. Karel, Democrat, of Milwaukee, for Governor by at least 25,000 votes. John J. Blaine, Independent, is running a very poor third. He was supported by La Follette, who declined to make the race himself after asserting the Republican and Democratic candidates would carry with him the balance of the ticket.

Gov. Francis E. McGovern was elected United States Senator by perhaps 20,000 plurality over Paul O. Husting, Democrat.

All congressional incumbents were re-elected.

All proposed amendments to the State Constitution apparently were badly defeated. The new Legislature will be Republican by a good margin.

G. O. P. Sweeps South Dakota, With Two Offices in Doubt

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 4.—That the Republicans have made a clean sweep in South Dakota, with the possible exception of United States Senator and Congressman in the Black Hills district, is indicated by such returns as had been received up to early this morning.

Burke, Republican, for Senator, and Johnson, Democrat, were running a neck-and-neck race and indications were that returns from the remote counties of the State would be required to determine the final outcome.

JOHNSON WINS IN CALIFORNIA; CLOSE RACE FOR SENATE

Republican and Democratic Candidates Running Even, With Progressive Far Behind.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 4.—Returns from all parts of the State early today showed that Representative Joseph B. Knowland, Republican, and James D. Phelan, Democrat, were running nose and nose in the race for United States Senator. Francis J. Heney, Progressive, was lagging far behind. Supporters of Gov. Hiram W. Johnson, Progressive, are claiming that his plurality for re-election over John D. Frederick, Republican, and John B. Curtin, Democrat, would approximate 100,000. The landslide for the head of the ticket has been shared by John M. Eshleman, president of the State Railroad Commission and Progressive candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

A drastic prohibition initiative measure and a proposed general eight-hour law were decisively beaten.

Julius Kahn and Charles F. Curry, Republicans, have been elected to Congress. Also, in the Valley, Progressive results in the other congressional contests were in doubt.

COL. ROOSEVELT ONLY SMILES

"Is That So," His Comment When Told of Progressive Losses; Refuses to Make Statement.

OSTEY BAY, N. Y., Nov. 4.—When Col. Roosevelt received reporters at Sagamore Hill at 9:30 o'clock last night, he was smiling and apparently in the happiest frame of mind.

Before the Colonel could begin talking, the telephone rang, and he picked up the wire to someone who wanted to know the latest election news.

"Why, yes, I understand Mr. Whitman has been elected Governor."

"Then you know, Mr. Roosevelt, that Mr. Whitman has won?" was asked, when Mr. Roosevelt came from the telephone.

"Why, by Jove!" he exclaimed, "I'd almost forgotten that this was election day."

"And Roger Sullivan has won and Beveridge has been defeated, according to last report," was asked.

"Is that so? Is that so?" replied Mr. Roosevelt, smiling broadly.

"And there has been a big falling off in the Progressive strength in New York State and much more strength displayed by Sulzer than was thought possible."

"Is that so? Is that so?" the Colonel repeated and then, smiling broadly: "Is it possible?"

He was asked for a statement, but replied: "I have nothing to say." But added, after hesitation: "It does not seem to me that under the circumstances a statement could be expected from me."

Williams Leads in Oklahoma

in Close Race for Governor OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Nov. 4.—While Robert L. Williams, Democrat, was leading early today by 7000 votes in the race for the governorship of Oklahoma and his supporters were claiming his election by 15,000, friends of John Fields, the Republican candidate, were confident the latter had carried the State by a plurality estimated as high as 2000. The hopes of the Republicans were based largely on the showing of heavy losses of Democratic votes in the southern counties, where the Socialist party made surprising gains.

The re-election of United States Senator Thomas P. Gore, Democrat, conceded last night, was made certain today as returns gave him an increasing plurality which his friends said would exceed 30,000 in the completed canvass.

With the probable exception of Dick T. Morgan, Republican candidate for Congress in the Sixth District, it seemed likely the Democrats had named all the Congressmen of the State.

Gov. Cox Defeated in Ohio, Harding Wins for Senate

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4.—Gov. James M. Cox, Democrat, this morning conceded his defeat at the polls yesterday, and sent a telegram of congratulation to Frank B. Willis, Republican.

It is certain that Warren G. Harding, Republican, will be the next Senator from Ohio, succeeding Theodore Burton by defeating State's Attorney Timothy Hogan by a substantial plurality. Indications were that the Republicans had captured 10 of 22 congressional delegates, a gain of seven Congressmen for the party. The Republicans will also control both branches of the State Legislature.

State prohibition was decisively defeated, as was woman suffrage, and an amendment placing a limit on taxation.

Massachusetts Democrats Re-Elect Governor Walsh

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Revised returns for Governor in the State election yesterday from all but one city ward and one small town, comprising 125 out of 1185 election districts, gave Gov. Walsh, Democrat, 26,281; McCall, Republican, 19,465; Walker, Progressive, 24,574.

Republicans regained control of the State Government, wrested from them a year ago.

In the congressional fights the Republicans were generally victorious. The delegation will stand 12 Republicans and four Democrats, a gain of four Republicans.

Democrats May Win Senator in Oregon; Republicans Get Rest

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 4.—A clean sweep by the Republicans of the State and congressional ticket, except for United States Senator, was indicated early today by partial returns from all counties of Oregon. The result of the vote on prohibition was not apparent from the reports.

George E. Chamberlain, Democrat, was running well ahead of Habbott, Republican, for Senator, and his managers claimed his election. It was apparent that the three Republican candidates for Congress, W. C. Hawley, N. J. Sinnott and C. N. McArthur, would be elected.

The election of James Withycombe, Republican, for Governor by a heavy majority was indicated, together with all other Republican candidates for State officers.

TO AVOID CATARRH OR BREAK UP A COLD

Use Hyomei a Simple, Harmless Remedy That Instantly Relieves.

At the first symptom of catarrh such as sniffling, fits of sneezing, running of mucus, itching of the nose, or that choked-up feeling in the morning, surely take immediate steps to conquer the disease. Catarrh is not only distressing, unclean and annoying, but a serious ailment. Delayed treatment frequently causes deafness, and unchecked catarrh surely destroys the health.

One of the easiest, simplest and least expensive remedies to check catarrh and break up a cold is Hyomei—a quick-acting, harmless, and most efficient treatment which can be had at any drug store.

Just put a few drops of this antiseptic and healing liquid into the small inhaler that comes with every Hyomei outfit, and breathe its balsamic and health-restoring fragrance a few minutes four times a day. This medicated air immediately soothes the inflamed tissues, and effectively drives out the poison. Just a few minutes' use of this most helpful remedy opens the stuffed air passages, clears the head and throat of the unclean discharges—you breathe freely, and immediately feel better. Hyomei is so sure to relieve and give lasting benefit that Booth's Hyomei Co. of Buffalo, authorize all druggists to sell it under guarantee of money refunded if you are not entirely satisfied.—ADV.

Republicans Make a Clean Sweep in New Hampshire

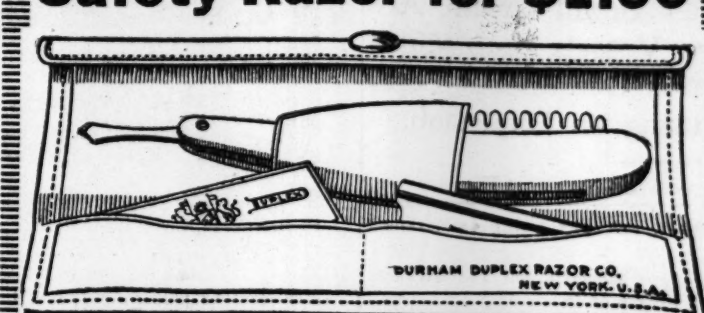

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 4.—New Hampshire abandoned the Democratic regime of the past two years, electing a Republican Governor, Rolland H. Spaulding, by a plurality estimated at 3000. The Republican victory extended to the United States Senatorial fight, Senator Jacob H. Gallinger defeating Edward Wason, Republican candidate for Stevens' seat in Congress, defeated Charles French, Democrat, by a close vote. Cyrus A. Sulloway, former Congressman, was re-elected to Congress in the First District over Eugene E. Reed, Democrat, who defeated Sulloway in 1912.

Republicans Win in North Dakota—Suffrage Leads

GRAND FORKS, N. D., Nov. 4.—Republicans scored a sweeping victory in North Dakota yesterday, returns indicate.

United States Senator A. J. Gronna and Congressman H. T. Helgeson, George M. Young and P. D. Norton were re-elected, and the complete Republican State ticket, headed by Gov. L. B. Hanna, appears to have been successful. The woman suffrage amendment was defeated overwhelmingly.

ELECTION RESULT A GREAT SURPRISE TO SPEAKER CLARK

He Declares Republican Victories Are Not a Rebuke to Wilson Administration.

BOWLING GREEN, Mo., Nov. 4.—Champ Clark, Speaker of the National House of Representatives, commenting this morning on the Republican victories in the elections held yesterday, said the vote was not a rebuke to the Wilson administration, but "just one more thing that could happen during these days of war."

"The result at the polls yesterday throughout the country," said the Speaker, "was a great surprise to me. But the defeat of a great number of Democratic Senators and Congressmen is not a rebuke to the policies of President Wilson. No, it is just a natural occurrence, one that might happen during these days of general mixup. The European war may have had something to do with it."

When told that the Democratic majority in the House was reduced by a big margin, the Speaker, who was elected by about 900 plurality, said that he felt certain when the result had been decided definitely the Democratic party still would have a safe working majority.

"The result of the Republican and Progressive forces in many districts and the inability of Democratic legislators, because of the long sessions of Congress, to properly canvass their districts, naturally permitted the voters to drift back to old party lines and the Republican victories are the result."

Senator Penrose Re-Elected in Pennsylvania by 200,000

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—The Republican plurality in Pennsylvania for all State candidates continued to increase today as additional returns were received. With 60 per cent of the State heard from, the plurality of United States Senator Penrose over A. Mitchell Palmer, his Democratic opponent, stood at 180,046, with indications that it might exceed 200,000. Gifford Pinchot, Progressive, was about 200 behind Palmer. Penrose's plurality in Philadelphia alone was 114,888.

For Governor, Martin G. Brumbaugh, Republican, had a plurality of 133,308 over Vance C. McCormick, his Democratic-Progressive opponent. The Republicans also elected their four nominees for Congressmen at large.

Philadelphia's congressional delegation of six will be solidly Republican, the two Democratic members from this city going down to defeat. From returns at hand the Republicans also won three congressional seats outside of Philadelphia held by Democrats and one held by a Progressive.

Tennessee Elects Democratic

Governor; Hooper Is Beaten
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 4.—The election of Thomas G. Rye, Democratic candidate for Governor, was conceded last night by managers of the campaign of Gov. Ben W. Hooper, Republican fusionist candidate. Returns from 33 counties out of 96 gave Rye a lead of 14,185.

Newlands Running Behind in Nevada Race for U. S. Senate

CARSON, Nev., Nov. 4.—Returns from 10 of the 16 counties in Nevada indicate that Francis G. Newlands, who has represented this State in the United States Senate since 1895, has been re-elected by the narrowest of margins, if he was not defeated. Samuel Platt (Rep.), has a margin of nearly 200 votes over Newlands in the 10 counties. Lasker L. Odell (Rep.), Emmet Boyle (Dem.) by about the same margin.

GRAY FADED HAIR, OR BEAUTIFUL DARK AND ATTRACTIVE—CHOOSE MADAM

Says Sage Tea Mixed with Sulphur Restores Natural Color and Lustre—also Removes Dandruff from Scalp.

Gray, faded hair turned beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night, is a reality, if you'll take the trouble to mix sage tea and sulphur, but what's the use, you get a large bottle of the ready-to-use tonic, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at drug stores here for about 50 cents. Millions of bottles of "Wyeth's" are sold annually, says a well-known druggist, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. These whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after just one application the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops. This is the age of youth, gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with the Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be amazed at your youthful appearance and the real beauty and healthy condition of your hair within a few days. Inquiry at drug stores here shows that they all sell lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and the folks using it are enthusiastic.—ADV.

PROGRESSIVES WIN SEAT IN CONGRESS IN LOUISIANA

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 4.—Returns from approximately 85 per cent of the Third District show that W. P. Martin, Progressive, is leading Henry L. Gueydan, Democrat, by 1210 votes for the congressional seat. Gueydan has conceded his defeat.

Returns Indicate Cummins'

Return to Senate in Iowa

DES MOINES, Io., Nov. 4.—On incomplete returns from three-fourths of the counties of Iowa, Republicans claim the re-election of Senator Cummins by a majority of about 35,000 and 30,000, and the re-election of Gov. Clarke by 20,000 or more. Democratic leaders had not conceded the defeat of Congressman Connolly for the Senate, and also claimed the election of their candidate for Congress in the Second District. They declared there was yet a chance of John T. Hamilton, their gubernatorial candidate, cutting down Gov. Clarke's said sufficiently to give him the election. The Republicans appear to have won all the other State offices.

Dillingham Re-Elected Senator

in Vermont Over Prouty

BURLINGTON, Vt., Nov. 4.—William P. Dillingham, Republican, was returned to the United States Senate in yesterday's election by a majority of about 700 over Charles A. Prouty, former Interstate Commerce Commissioner and nonpartisan candidate. The Republicans retained control of the Legislature by largely increased majorities. Charles W. Gates was the successful gubernatorial candidate with a plurality of about 11,000 over Howe, Democrat. The Progressive vote fell off by about 900 from that of 1912.

Democrat Elected Governor

in Minnesota by 25,000

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 4.—Congressman W. S. Hammond, Democrat, was elected Governor yesterday by an estimated majority of from 25,000 to 30,000 over his Republican opponent, William E. Lee, according to incomplete returns today. The Progressive vote for Governor was light. Congressional candidates who probably were elected are: First District, Sydney Anderson (Rep.); Third District, Charles R. Davis (Rep.); Fourth District, C. Van Dyke (Dem.); Fifth District, G. R. Smith (Rep.); Eighth District, Clarence B. Miller (Rep.). In the Seventh and Ninth districts there were no contests.

Roosevelt's Son-in-Law

Regains Seat in Congress

CINCINNATI, Nov. 4.—Former Congressman Nicholas Longworth, Republican, Theodore Roosevelt's son-in-law, who was defeated two years ago by Stanley Bowdler, Democrat, yesterday was returned to Congress. His opponent again was Bowdler, whom he beat by a substantial majority.

Senator Shively Is Re-elected in Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 4.—From incomplete returns it was indicated today that Senator B. F. Shively, Democrat, will be re-elected. His plurality probably will be between 30,000 and 35,000. The Republicans gained two seats in Congress, carrying the Seventh and Tenth districts, and are also conceded a chance in the Second and Ninth districts.

Republican Appears to Have Won Colorado Governorship

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 4.—George A. Carlson, Republican, defeated former Senator Thomas M. Patterson, Democrat, in the race for the governorship of Colorado, according to incomplete returns. Hubert Work, Republican, was running slightly behind United States Senator Charles S. Thomas, Democrat, who was seeking re-election. Indications were that at least a majority of the Republican State ticket had been elected. Returns indicate the Democrats have won at least two of the four members of Congress.

Congressional Race in New Mexico Is Close

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 4.—Slowness in returns from yesterday's election in New Mexico for Congressman and Corporation Commissioner gave no adequate basis for a prediction of the outcome early today. Unofficial returns from three precincts in Albuquerque gave H. B. Ferguson, Democrat, for Congress a plurality of 27, while seven precincts in Valencia County gave H. C. Hernandez, Republican, a plurality of 50. Indications pointed to a close race.

Brandagee Re-Elected in Connecticut

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 4.—Revised unofficial returns from yesterday's Republican sweep today show that Senator Frank B. Brandagee's plurality over Gov. Baldwin for the United States Senate was 13,074. Judge Marcus H. Holcomb's plurality over Lieutenant-Governor Thorpe for the gubernatorial nominal was 17,175. There are good working majorities in both branches of the State Legislature.

Medal for

Saving Life

Goes to Switch-

man From the President.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—President Wilson, on the recommendation of the Interstate Commerce Commission, yesterday awarded to W. A. Holley of Greenville, Tex., a switchman, a medal of honor for saving life. Mrs. Sallie Griffith, 63, became confused crossing a track in front of a rapidly approaching train. Holley, at the risk of his own life, carried her out of danger.

LADY LEITH'S GRANDSON REPORTED KILLED IN WAR

A cablegram from London announces it was reported that Lieut. Arthur Burn of the Royal Dragoons had been killed in action. Lieut. Burn, 22 years old, was the son of Col. Charles Rowland Burn, M. P., and a grandson of Lady Leith of Eryrie, formerly of St. Louis.

Mrs. J. C. January of 601 Westminster place, Lady Leith's stepmother, today said she received a letter from Lady Leith several weeks ago, in which she said her grandson had joined his regiment. Lady Leith has lived in England for more than 20 years.

STONE SAYS VOTE IS A GREAT VICTORY OVER UNITED G. O. P.

Senator Wires Congratulations to President Over Public Support of His Policies.

The election of a Congress, Democratic in both the Senate and House of Representatives, against a reunited Republican party, is regarded by United States Senator Stone as a splendid Democratic victory.

He told a Post-Dispatch reporter at the Planters Hotel today that the result of the election was an emphatic endorsement of President Wilson's administration and an approval of the legislation enacted by Congress.

"The Republicans have been saying that if they could become united they could lick us," Senator Stone said. "They were united everywhere, and the contest generally was a clean-cut fight between the Democrats standing by Wilson's administration and the Republicans opposing it."

"We have shown them that they cannot lick us, even when they are united. The vote of the Progressive party seems to have almost completely disappeared. Considering the fact that this is an off year; that the Democrats have enacted a new tariff law and new currency legislation; that we have had to meet the hard times cry, and that a great war is on which has absorbed public attention, I think the Democrats have done fine."

"I have just sent President Wilson a telegram congratulating him upon the fact that the country has voiced its approval of his policies."

"We have expected to lose some seats in Congress, because many members of the present Congress were elected by small majorities in 1912, when the Republicans were divided."

"With Democratic majorities reduced, the fight between the two parties in Congress will be interesting. The Democrats will be on their mettle."

"I am disappointed at the Democratic results in St. Louis. I thought we should do better here than we have."

MISS MILDRED JONES' wedding, in Kirkwood Monday, to Lawrence L. Bridge, will be one of the most notable of the autumn nuptial events, and will take a number of people out from town. The ceremony will be at 8:30 o'clock at Grace Episcopal Church, the Rev. J. J. Wilkins officiating, assisted by the Rev. Z. B. T. Phillips of St. Peter's.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorraine F. Jones of "Ivy Lodge," whose forebears were members of the colonial families of Virginia.

She is a belle of last season, and is considered unusually pretty. Her beau, Benjamin O'Fallon Randolph, the bride's sister, will be matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Charlotte Coles, a cousin of the bride, who has come from Brooklyn, N. Y., for the occasion. Miss Sidney Brown, Miss Edith Jones, the bride's cousin, and Miss Marion Bridge, the bridegroom's sister, who is still a schoolgirl.

John Dwight Bridge will be best man for his brother, and another brother, George Leighton Bridge, will be one of the groomsmen, and the others will be Ralph White of Chicago, Edwin Short and F. Maury Jones, the bride's brother.

A reception at Ivy Lodge will be held after the ceremony, and later Mr. and Mrs. Bridge and his bride will depart for the West to spend their honeymoon. When they return they will live in Kirkwood. Mr. Bridge is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson E. Bridge of 23 Westmoreland place.

Mrs. Howard Gillett of Chicago, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. James H. Brookmire of 4934 Berlin avenue, departed last night for her home.

Sunday the engagement of Miss Leola Lohrman, 2449 South Second street, to William Krieger, 1929 Sidney street, was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lohrman, at their home. The marriage will be the first of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Longstaff of Kansas City are visiting the latter's father, M. V. Pabor, in Kirkwood. Mr. Longstaff was formerly Miss Ida Pabor.

The Liederkreis Club announces the Peerless Liederkreis Minstrels, "90 lively mirth-provoking fun-makers in a whirl of music, mirth and song," with 40 in the beauty chorus and 20 comedians, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Biebling of Kirkwood and their daughter, Miss Margaret Biebling, are spending a fortnight in New York and are stopping at Hotel Woodstock.

NEGRO ROBS GIRL CASHIER

A negro entered the bakery of Charles Teutenberg, 1402 Franklin avenue, about 7 o'clock last night. After purchasing a dime's worth of cakes he gave the cashier, Miss Mamie Cox of 2337 Franklin avenue, a $20 bill. When she had taken $19.90 from the cash register he drew a revolver, snatched the change from her hand, his $20 bill from the cash drawer, and with his cakes under his arm sauntered west on Franklin avenue.

WAR AIDS EXPOSITION

Frank L. Morey, secretary of the Commonwealth Steel Co., has received a letter from George Houghberry, director of the division of exploitation of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, to be held next year in San Francisco, assuring him that the European war, instead of cutting down the exhibits at the exposition, has had a contrary effect. Manufacturers of the United States and other countries not at war, realizing that the collapse of the commercial systems of the belligerent nations created new trade opportunities, have seized upon the exposition as the easiest method of presenting their goods to the attention of exhibitors and consumers of South and Central America.

Go Armed Against Stomach Trouble

A Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet Carried in Your Purse or Pocket Will Enable You to Always Keep Your Stomach in Line.

Trial Sent Free to All

Don't let all sorts of stomach troubles, dyspepsia, gastritis, malnutrition, indigestion and vertigo make life a constant torture and an untimely failure. The men and women who are going to succeed today must have their bodies, as well as their minds, in perfect working order. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a necessity to the men and women who would always have their bodies in subjection to their wills.

"I Eat When I Will, What I Want, and Rely on Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets When Needed."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets furnish just those elements—pepsin and other ingredients—that the normal stomach secretes for the digestion of food. One or two of these tablets will completely digest the heaviest meal without any aid from the stomach. At the same time they tone up and invigorate the enfeebled stomach so that it is soon in a healthy condition again.

Prudent men and women always have a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on hand. They give quick relief, make digestion certain no matter what or how much is eaten. Don't think because your stomach is usually all right that you don't need them. The policeman carries a revolver not because he needs it all the time, but because when he does need it, he needs it right then. When you want relief from indigestion, you want relief at once. Be armed against stomach troubles with a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, 50 cents at any drug store, or send coupon below for free trial.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Have You Rheumatism, Kidney, Liver or Bladder Trouble?

Pain or dull ache in the back is often evidence of kidney trouble. It is Nature's timely warning to show you that the track of health is not clear.

Danger Signals. If these danger signals are unheeded more serious results may be expected; kidney trouble in its worst form may steal upon you.

Thousands of people have testified that the mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized—that it stands the highest for its remarkable curative effect in the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine, it should have the best.

Lame Back.

Lame back is only one of many symptoms of kidney trouble. Other symptoms showing that you may need Swamp-Root are being subject to embarrassing and frequent bladder troubles day and night.

Uric acid, dizziness, indigestion, sleeplessness, nervousness, sometimes the heart acts badly; rheumatism, bloating; lack of ambition, maybe loss of flesh, sallow complexion.

Prevalence of Kidney Disease. Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are among the most common diseases that prevail, they are sometimes the last recognized by patients, who very often content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease may constantly undermine the system.

Sample Size Bottle.

SPECIAL NOTE—You may obtain a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root by enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. This gives you the opportunity to prove the remarkable merit of this medicine. They will also send you a book of valuable information, containing many of the thousands of grateful letters received from men and women who say they found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed in kidney, liver and bladder troubles. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that readers are advised to send for a sample size bottle. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Be sure to say you read this offer in the St. Louis Daily Post-Dispatch.

Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., which you will find on every bottle.

PIMPLES ON HEAD

ITCHED AND BURNED

Baby's Head Covered. Kept Spreading. Would Scratch and Fret. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

Tell City, Ind.—"My baby's head was covered with sores and the top was a solid scab. It began with pimples and he would scratch his head until it would bleed and then scab over and keep spreading. He would claw his head and fret it itched and burned so and I was afraid he would never have any hair on top of his head again."

"A friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment to me. I asked our family doctor and he said, 'Yes, go right ahead and use them.' We got one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and they healed him from the first. I would wash him with Cuticura Soap and warm water and then rub the Cuticura Ointment on his head with my fingers and great drops of sweat would come out. The scabs would become soft. In a few days his head did not seem to itch or bother him in the least and before we had used one set he was healthy and he has a fine growth of hair. It was worth many times the cost." (Signed) Mrs. Rosa M. Hanks, Jan. 26, 1914.

HOW NEW YORK PAPERS VIEW ELECTION RESULTS

The World Sees Finish of Roosevelt, While the Tribune and American Declare Vote Is a Rebuke to Wilson Administration.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—New York newspapers today make the following editorial comments on the result of yesterday's elections:

World: Three times has the World written the political obituary of Theodore Roosevelt. This time we shall say nothing at all of the dead. It looks as if he has been safely tucked away by that genial and popular undertaker, Charles S. Whitman, ably assisted by Sexton Sulzer, but you never can tell. This may or may not be the final funeral. If it is we are ready to testify at the inquest that the deceased died with his boots on.

Herald: "I have made Roosevelt look like 80 cents," said William Sulzer last night. Mr. Sulzer did his full part toward the accomplishment of this result, but he had able assistance. The Progressive "clump" in his own State is hardly less significant of the Roosevelt eclipse than is the waning of Progressive strength in other parts of the country. In spots it has cut enough of a figure to contribute to the defeat of a Republican nominee, but as a party the "Bull Moose" need no longer be reckoned with.

Rebuke to Wilson, Tribune Says.
Tribune: The Wilson administration stands condemned by public opinion. Even the distraction of a great world war did not prevent the voters of this country from expressing their emphatic disapproval of its acts and policies. It was only natural that an international catastrophe of unprecedented proportions like the plunging of three continents into war should absorb attention here for the moment, since we have had to suffer with the rest of the world by the prostration of credit and the interruption of commerce.

There was a time when it seemed as if the war might serve as a mantle of charity covering the failures of the administration. It is the last blow whose sting remains keenest in the consciousness and the aggravations to our business troubles caused by the war almost promised to overshadow in the thoughts of the voters the original hardships due to the unwise leadership and legislation at Washington.

Sun: The salient feature of the voting yesterday throughout the United States, or rather throughout that part of the country which is reasonably indicative of political change, was the compelling evidence of Republican repudiation. The Progressive advance is not only checked, the Progressive forces are almost annihilated. Such is the condition which confronts the Wilson administration midway in its term.

What does this signify as to the future of that personal and national and international prestige which Woodrow Wilson, by force of his own qualities, has made for himself, and which in the present condition of the world outside of America it is the earnest desire of every patriotic citizen to see sustained and strengthened? Under other circumstances the apparent reverse might mean much that is deplorable. But the marked readjustment yesterday in the relative voting strength of the two great parties merely emphasizes the now almost forgotten conditions under which Mr. Wilson and his party originally attained to power. Two years ago Mr. Wilson's vote lacked more than a million and a quarter of the combined vote of the Republican party, split into factions by Col. Roosevelt's individual enterprise of hatred and ambition.

The President is a minority President. What, then, has he really lost by this inevitable process of reaction and recombination of the potential majority? And what does it signify to the great architect of Republican disruption? His discovery of November, 1914, is no River of Doubt, this time. It is a positively, definitely, unmistakably onflowing and overwhelming tide of disaster for him and his larger hopes.

Verdict Unfavorable, Times Says.
Times: Mr. Wilson has not altogether escaped the penalty of success as the country so often visits upon a President in the second year of his term. Even though he has shown and maintained his mastery over a fractious Congress and has shaped its action to his will; even though he has in less than two years carried through a program of legislation unequalled in variety, scope and importance in the record of any other President's complete term; even though he has won and deserved the gratitude of the country for keeping us out of the war with Mexico at this most critical time; in the election held yesterday, even though Congress has been saved, the verdict is not favorable to him or to his party.

The appeal for a vote of confidence in the administration was made at a time when the country is in the midst of serious industrial depression, when the disunion which divided the opposition party in 1912 has substantially disappeared. There are the conspicuous and sufficient reasons for Democratic reverses.

America: The voters of the United States yesterday with convincing emphasis and force expressed their condemnation of the Wilson administration and the Wilson policies.

It is no unusual thing for an administration, especially one responsible for a tariff law, to fail to hold in its second year the popular support that carried it into office. But never before has the expression of popular disapproval been so unmistakable.

Fusion Candidate Leading

Over Senator Smoot in Utah
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 4.—With about half the vote of the State counted early today, James H. Moyle, fusion, is leading Reed Smoot, Republican, for United States Senator by about 500. Additional returns from Salt Lake County indicate that Moyle and the entire fusion ticket carried by a substantial majority.

Returns are coming slowly on account of the great amount of scratching, and it probably will be late today, before the result in the State is known definitely. Mayor Democrat, probably is elected Representative in Congress from the Second District, and Howell Republican, from the First.

Republican Leads in Senate Race in Idaho.
BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 4.—Scattered returns from 50 precincts of 744 indicate the election of James H. Brady, Republican incumbent, as United States Senator and Addison T. Smith, Republican incumbent, and Robert McCrackin, Republican, as Congressman, and Gov. John M. Haines, Republican, has been defeated.

JOHN: I have decided that I love you best. You can have the National Credit Jewellers, 2d floor, 308 N. Sixth st.; open evenings.

Seems almost too good to be true—to buy brand-new, stylish frocks at such a tremendous reduction. But the values are absolutely as stated—and the best thing about it is the fact that there are really more $15 and $17.50 Dresses in this lot than $12.50 ones.

We bought them from several high-class metropolitan makers who were overstocked. They cut below actual cost of manufacturing to raise ready cash.

These Dresses are not shopworn, or samples, or odds and ends—but a complete variety of the very latest Winter styles, following faithfully the very newest and most approved fashion ideas, and including delightful creations of Crepe de Chine, Crepe Meteor, Charmeuse, Satin and Silk Poplin—in Navy, Copenhagen, Wistaria, Green, Brown, White and Black.

To enumerate all the styles, would be to list every approved fashion for the season. You will find appropriate models for both dress and semi-dress occasions. Better be here early so as to have full choice—still, the quantity is so large that satisfactory selection is assured throughout the day.

Pianola Music Rolls are complete

Above is illustrated a portion of a Pianola Music Roll, showing the remarkably complete way in which every musical effect is provided for. Ample opportunity is afforded for playing according to your own individual mood, but authoritative guidance is always at hand, so that you may learn to play under the most famous pianists in the whole world.

There is but ONE Pianola

More than 300 United States and foreign patents cover the exclusive features of the Pianola. It is these features which have caused the greatest musicians everywhere to unanimously say that the Pianola is the only player action worthy of serious musical consideration. You do not want an instrument that merely mechanically fingers the notes—you want an instrument that will enable you to play music interestingly and beautifully—the Pianola alone will enable you to do this.

Why consider imitations—

more "player-pianos"—when you may have the Pianola itself with all of its wonderful and exclusive features for as little as

Best Treatment for All Complexion Ills

I'll tell you my manna for all complexion troubles. If the skin be colorless, sallow, muddy, over-red, if it be rough, chapped, blotchy, pimply or freckled, there's nothing that will so surely overcome the condition as ordinary mercuric iodine. The wax literally takes off a bad complexion—absorbs the dead and near-dead particles of surface skin, so gently, gradually, you experience no inconvenience at all. A new complexion is then in evidence, one so clear, spotless, delicately soft and beautiful you look much younger. Use it daily in a solution made by dissolving a pinch of powder in water. In a half-pint witch hazel. This acts immediately, affecting even the deepest wrinkles. (Rifle Desmond, in Beauty's Mirror)—A.

To Break up a Cold

Into a pitcher, put a tablespoonful of butter, a quarter of a cup of light brown sugar, an ounce of fresh whole allspice, the juice of one orange and one lemon and a pint of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Let the butter, sugar, allspice and whiskey stand for half an hour, then add a half pint of boiling water. Stir well before serving. The juice of the orange and lemon, last of all. To be served in a wine glass. This drink is particularly wholesome, appetizing and strengthening, especially in stormy weather. Prompt action on such occasions, in administering a pure stimulant, like Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, so pleasantly combined, will break up a cold, and perhaps ward off more serious attacks of bronchitis or pneumonia.—ADV.

HOW TO HEAL SKIN TROUBLES

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes, and similar itching skin troubles. At any reliable drugist's get a jar of Resinol Ointment and a cake of Resinol Soap. These will not cost a bit more than seventy-five cents. With the resinol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of Resinol Ointment and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stops with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again. For free samples of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, write Dept. 34-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

Women Find County Unit Proposition Hurt Cause Marguerite Martyn Says

Also Points Out That Some Men Didn't Keep Promise to Vote for Suffrage—Workers' Experiences.

By Marguerite Martyn.

TODAY the smoke of battle clears away and only the greasy wreck of all the hard fighting in behalf of Amendment 13 looms up. Only one ward answers the suffrage roll call—and that but feebly—the Twenty-eighth, with a majority of 52.

Prominent suffragists workers were hopeful until the very last moment before the returns began coming in last night. They had had such beautiful receptions everywhere they worked at the polls yesterday.

They stood at the 100-foot limit, armed with literature, buttons, badges and sweet smiles, and it was only the rarest voter hurrying on his way who did not accept the proffered "arguments" with equally cordial smiles and many times a hand-grasp and "best wishes."

These expressions lasted, it is now plainly to be seen, only until the screen of the voting booth closed around the voters.

Division Among the Men.

Now, it seems that yesterday St. Louis men were divided largely into two classes, one class—the larger class—those who gave the impression they favored it, even promised to vote for the woman's amendment, and who didn't keep their word, and the other, and smaller class, those who came out into the open and fought the women on their own ground.

I am wondering today if many women are not inclined to transfer their affections from the very polite gentlemen who deceived them so to the ward heelers, roughnecks and generally bibulous parties who stood beside them, honestly working against them.

At any rate, a gathering at the City Club last night of some of the prominent women workers for much-needed refreshment and to await the returns, became a sort of experience meeting.

Mrs. John L. Lowe, Mrs. Alice Curtice Moyer, Mrs. David O'Neil, Mrs. B. F. Burch, Mrs. Oscar Leonard, Mrs. E. L. Sanford, Misses Bulkeley, Rumbold, Engel, Riley, Yakor, Blackman and several others, though weary—some of them had been working in the various wards since 5 a. m.—were in high spirits and great glee, and declared the day's experience in giving them an inside view of practical politics had been worth more to them than all they had learned of campaigning during all the weeks before.

Worked at the Polls.

It was the first time in history women have actually worked at the polls here to influence an election. Women were appointed to each precinct in many of the wards.

It was not deemed good policy to send women into the so-called lower wards and into other wards already hopelessly lined up against them. All the women appointed and many casual volunteers made quite an army at the polls, though sometimes widely scattered. Everywhere two women were stationed it was noticeable that at once four or more workers against the county unit bill would appear and seem to accept the women as their particular enemy.

Last Moment Trick. Lining up woman's suffrage with the prohibition seemed to be the appointed duty of these gentlemen and that political trick was repeated at the last moment of the campaign may have had much to do with the defeat of Amendment 13.

At Grand avenue and Arsenal street, where Miss Josephine Yakor, pretty and fresh-faced but, as all had reason to learn before the day was over, a serious minded young woman, seemed to be winning everything for suffrage, many striking examples of practical politics were offered.

One well-dressed, prosperous looking young man of a "white ribboned" squad approached Miss Yakor confidentially: "What are you getting out of this? We'll give you just as much to distribute our literature."

Offer of Job in Bottling Works. On being told that this young woman had taken the day off from her downtown job, wasn't receiving a cent of pay, and would attend to her business and he could attend to his, she exclaimed:

"Say, take it from me, kid, you are a fool. Why, you could make big money doing this kind of work. And you can have a job as foreman in the bottling works," he added, "any time you come and ask me for it."

Another man working for the "white ribbons"—self-appropriated badges of the anti-prohibition workers—strutted and boasted and got in Miss Yakor's way during all the day. But as evening came on he all but broke down, or at least completely lost his dignity, as a testimonial of Miss Yakor's work.

"I want to do the voting for my family," he exclaimed.

"I wouldn't trust my wife when it comes to voting wet. I tell you, lady, there'll have to be a divorce in my family if women get the suffrage."

He was pitiful, really. But to show that for the most part he and other workers of his kind did not actually believe the women were prohibitionists, another example was afforded. You have to know the extremely dignified and scholarly and Bostonian Mrs. Lowe really to appreciate this. At her precinct, somewhere in the Seventh ward, one of the "white ribbons," extremely sober looking, stilled up to her.

Election Day Atmosphere.

"Say, us boys is awful dry," he said.

"Won't you set 'em up?"

Mrs. O'Neil got a whiff of election-day "atmosphere" which she says was most educational.

A voter was examining a stack of white cards that had been thrust upon him when she slipped her red slip on top.

"Hell," he said, glancing up.

"You in on this, too?"

Those women who feared they might impress their compatriots yesterday with the unequal distribution of wealth in their favor, which was one of the objections offered among the legislation the time the women went to Jefferson City, must have felt consoled when one of the ward workers drew up beside Mrs. O'Neil, placed a finger wearing a flashing gem alongside of hers, and said in all friendliness: "Yours is just a splinter beside mine."

One Worker Not Hoodwinked. Mrs. G. A. Gulbor, working in the Twenty-seventh Ward, was one of the very few women I met in visits to polling places in various parts of the city who refused to be hoodwinked by all the courtesy she was receiving on every hand. In her precinct a furniture man supplied chairs on the sidewalk for the women. This was no unusual incident of the day. Many houses were opened to them as rest rooms, and in several neighborhoods good housewives prepared breakfast, luncheon and coffee in the afternoon for the workers.

Mrs. Gulbor, a blooming, wholesome looking young matron, simply tempts a smiling response. "They all promise to vote," she said to me, "and I pretend to believe them. But I think I know politics. The only thing I depend upon to gain us this ward is the spirit incited by that baby show we gave at the West Park Church some weeks ago."

Oh, but I cannot finish without telling you one incident of yesterday sufficient to do away with that favorite old argument against voting, namely—her

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"My left side pained me so for several years that I expected to have to undergo an operation, but the first bottle I took of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of the pains in my side and I continued its use until I became free from pains. I had asked several doctors if there was anything I could take to help me and they said there was nothing they knew of. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—MRS. C. H. GRIFFITH, 7305 Madison Av., Cleveland, Ohio.

Hanover, Pa.—"I suffered from female trouble and the pains were so bad at times that I could not sit down. The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it. What joy and happiness it is to be well once more. I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Compound."—MRS. ADA WILT, 196 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.

LEADERS DIFFER ON CAUSE OF G. O. P. LANDSLIDE HERE

Chairman Schmoll Says Tariff and Alleged Election Frauds Defeated Democrats.

John Schmoll, chairman of the Republican City Committee, and Daniel Meehan, chairman of the Democratic City Committee, were wide apart today in their views of what brought out the Republican landslide in St. Louis.

Meehan said the county unit proposition caused all the trouble. Schmoll said the county unit proposition had very little to do with bringing out the vote and that it was the tariff nationally and alleged election frauds locally that defeated the Democrats.

"It was a glorious victory," said Schmoll, "and a rebuke to the Democratic administration. The Democrats promised in 1912 to decrease the cost of living and increase wages. They haven't done either and the people are dissatisfied. Men are out of work and they will not get work until the protective tariff is restored."

"County Unit Helped Some." "Frauds, which the people realized were being perpetrated in the downtown wards, brought many votes to the Republicans. People won't stand for crooked elections any more, Democrats as well as Republicans. We knew that there had been registration frauds, but we could not prove it. The shooting that occurred yesterday supplied the proof."

"The county unit helped some, but not very much. We did no work on it except at the polls. It was not discussed at our meetings. We did not discuss any of the amendments, in fact, except home rule."

"Men who had never attended political meetings before came early to our meetings and I knew there was going to be a landslide. It was the tariff and the registration frauds that did it."

"Republicans Had Advantage." "The county unit did it," said Meehan. "The big Republican vote came from South St. Louis. It was a repetition of the vote of four years ago on State-wide prohibition. I was down in the Tenth and Fourteenth wards about noon yesterday and I could see there was going to be a big Republican vote. There was nothing wrong about that, except that they voted wrong."

"Ten days ago we figured on a total vote of 110,000 to 115,000. The Republicans, during the last week, got out county unit circulars and they brought out the increased vote. The county unit was good for an increase of 10,000 votes. It was a tremendous vote for an off year and the county unit did it more than anything else. The Supreme Court's decision was used against us, too."

"The Republicans started with an advantage in having the city positions. Five thousand men holding city jobs are a strong organization in themselves. The tariff and the charges of registration frauds, although the latter were largely disproved, had an effect, but it was nothing like the effect of the county unit agitation."

Babler's Statement. J. L. Babler, chairman of the Republican State Committee, at noon said: "The Democratic majority will be away less than the Democrats are claiming. I know we have elected Congressmen in the Tenth, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth districts and have a chance in the Sixteenth. We have heard from only 52 of the 114 counties and the returns from these show that the vote is very close."

"The issues between the Republicans and Democrats were sharply drawn and the Progressives were put out of business. It looks as if we are getting ready to carry things two years from now. The Progressive vote was not more than 15,000. Two years ago it was 18,000. Most of the Progressives who have returned to the Republican party are back to stay, and will vote with us the next time."

Great Results.

SAGER DISAPPOINTED IN PROGRESSIVE VOTE

Defeated Candidate Says It Is Smaller Than Expected, but Party Will Continue.

Arthur N. Sager, Progressive nominee for the United States Senate, said today:

"The city vote is a disappointment. I don't really understand it. We expected the vote to fall off, but it fell off more than we expected. We know there are more Progressives in the city than the vote shows. We can get in touch with a greater number than that. I conclude they wanted to use their votes in local contests and not waste them. We had no publicity and we were constantly pounded."

"I have not heard enough from the State to tell how we came out. The vote fell off in spots, and in other places was encouraging. We feel no discouragement. We are getting well organized in the State and we are going ahead. We will keep our faces to the front and go forward to 1916."

BOY, 15, MISSING FROM HIS HOME SINCE MONDAY

Halley Tilley Disappeared After Mother Refused Man's Request to Take Him to Texas.

Mrs. Lulu Dildine of 11834 Walton avenue has asked the police to search for her son, Halley Tilley, 15 years old, who disappeared Monday after she had refused the request of Humberto Gout, 21 years old, of 1824 Bayard avenue, who asked her if the boy could accompany him on a trip to Texas. Gout said he was an agent for a magazine.

Before Gout disappeared he told his bride, Mrs. Genevieve Gout, 20 years old, that he was going to his mother's home in Mexico City to obtain money with which to start housekeeping. The couple were married Sept. 29 and Gout had not been employed since. He graduated from the Christian Brothers' College last June. He had planned to get a position as Spanish interpreter in a local shoe house.

DEMOCRATS WIN IN MISSOURI BY 40,000 TO 60,000

Senator Stone Leads Ticket; Republicans Appear to Have Won Only 2 Congressmen.

LEGISLATURE DEMOCRATIC

Country Districts Vote Against Home Rule for St. Louis; Strong for County Unit.

McCLUNG'S CANDIDATE IN COLE COUNTY IS BEATEN BY ABOUT 700

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 4. BUSINESS men and farmers of Jefferson City and Cole County yesterday expressed their resentment against D. C. McClung, penitentiary warden and Democratic State chairman, by defeating J. Patrick Murphy, McClung's candidate for Prosecuting Attorney, by about 700 majority, though the other Democratic candidates were elected by from 300 to 750.

Murphy is a clerk at the penitentiary. He came here two years ago from Springfield to accept the position, which is a political appointment. He was nominated by McClung's political machine in the primary over two local men.

The Post-Dispatch Saturday printed a letter written by McClung to a hundred or more prison officials, his appointees, in which he urged them to insist that the business men with whom they traded should vote for Murphy and that "they are not entitled to your trade unless they did so." The news article and an editorial on the question were clipped from the Post-Dispatch and run under large headlines in the Jefferson City newspapers.

Democratic victories in nearly all parts of the State, with the exception of St. Louis, were assured by early morning returns. The re-election of Senator William J. Stone and the election of Howard A. Gass to the office of State Superintendent of Schools, and James T. Blair for Supreme Judge, were shown.

The returns indicated that Senator Stone's plurality would be between 50,000 and 60,000 and that the pluralities of the other candidates for State offices would be somewhat less, though they are expected to exceed 40,000.

The Progressive vote seemed to have little part in the election, except in Kansas City, where the Progressive ticket ran second to the Democratic.

Indications are that the Democratic candidates for Congress were successful out in the State, though there is some doubt in three of the districts, and complete returns probably will be necessary definitely to determine the winner.

Champ Clark, Speaker of the House of Representatives in Congress, has been re-elected by 300 to 500 majority.

Winners for Congress.
Officials of the Democratic State Committee contend that the only Republican Congressmen elected are L. C. Dyer in the Twelfth District and Jacob E. Meeker in the Tenth, both St. Louis districts. The contests are close in the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Districts.

The probable winners for Congress are:

First District, James T. Lloyd (D.); Second, W. W. Rucker (D.); Third, J. W. Alexander (D.); Fourth, Charles F. Booher (D.); Fifth, W. P. Borland (D.); Sixth, C. C. Dickinson (D.); Seventh, C. W. Hamlin (D.); Eighth, D. W. Shackelford (D.); Ninth, Champ Clark (D.); Tenth, Jacob E. Meeker (R.); Eleventh, William L. Igoe (D.); Twelfth, L. C. Dyer (R.); Thirteenth, W. L. Hensley (D.); Fourteenth, J. J. Russell (D.); Fifteenth, Perl D. Decker (D.), and Sixteenth, Thomas L. Rube (D.).

Thomas J. Atkins, Republican candidate for United States Senator, ran well up with the ticket in St. Louis, but is reported from out in the State to have fallen behind other candidates.

Gass, for State Superintendent of Schools, defeated Evans, who was elected four years ago, and James T. Blair, for Supreme Judge, defeated Robertson.

Home Rule Defeated.

It seems certain that all constitutional amendments and propositions submitted under the initiative and referendum were defeated by overwhelming votes, though there is a possibility that amendment No. 1, prohibiting the re-submission of single tax, may have carried. Country districts polled large votes for the county unit proposition, but it is not believed that the majority of approximately 70,000 in St. Louis can be overcome. The women's suffrage amendment was overwhelmingly defeated.

The country districts voted against home rule for St. Louis, which gave the home rule propositions only small majorities. Both were defeated in the State.

Legislature Democratic.

The next Legislature will be Democratic in both branches. No exact figures are obtainable on the House Democratic majority, but it is expected to be large. William H. Phelps was elected State Senator from Jasper County, and John P. Morton was elected to the Senate from the Northwest Missouri district.

The Democratic ticket carried Kansas City and Jackson County with a vote of 35,576 for Congressman. The Progressive ticket was second with a vote of 9,308, and the Republican ticket third with a vote of 3,594.

DISEASE SPREADING IN CHICAGO YARDS; CONSIDER CLOSING

State and Federal Authorities Confer With Cattle Men on Grave Situation.

WILL KILL 1200 CATTLE

Governor Has Opposed a Complete Quarantine, but One Is Predicted.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Closing of the Chicago Stockyards in the fight against the foot and mouth disease was again gravely considered at a conference of State and Federal authorities with cattle men today.

It was reported that the disease had spread further in the cattle pens and that 1200 cattle were ordered killed immediately and their carcasses destroyed. The veterinarians admitted later that the disease was spreading at the yards. The gravity of the situation was generally admitted and predictions were made that the yards would be quarantined completely by night.

A conference was to discuss this measure. It was considered yesterday, but Gov. Dunne opposed it.

New York and Maryland Added to Quarantine States.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—A Federal quarantine against shipment of cattle out of New York State and Maryland was imposed today by the Department of Agriculture, due to the discovery of the foot and mouth disease in the Buffalo stock yards and in Hagerston, Md.

Foot and mouth disease among 616 feeders in the Chicago stock yards was reported to the Department of Agriculture. Two more cows with the disease were found in the National Dairy Show there. One herd was found infected in Maryland and half a dozen infected herds were reported in the Buffalo yards.

Canada Extends Embargo Against American Cattle.

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 4.—Because of the spread of the foot and mouth disease, Canada has extended the embargo against American cattle to Illinois and Pennsylvania. Previously it applied only to cattle from Michigan and Indiana.

JUDGE WOULD FORBID TREATING IN WASHINGTON

Test of His Decision Will Be Taken to Highest Court by Saloon Keepers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Judge James A. Pugh of the Police Court of the District of Columbia, handed down a decision yesterday which will eliminate treating in barrooms in Washington. He gave it, as his opinion, that under the new excise law, common barroom treating is prohibited.

A test case will be sent to the highest courts by the saloon people, who fear that the breaking up of the social drink would destroy their business.

Judge Pugh's opinion is based upon section 9 of the excise law, which provides that "No person shall give away any intoxicating liquors, except as hereinafter provided."

Judge Pugh holds that it is a violation of the law to serve intoxicating liquor except for one's own use, on the dinner table, or anywhere else, or to have it served by a bartender.

RAILROAD AUDITOR IS MISSING FROM HOME

T. B. McArdle, Ill. Disappeared Friday After Starting to Meet Engagement.

Police have been asked to search for Thomas B. McArdle, 32 years old, a traveling auditor for the Missouri Pacific Railroad, who disappeared Friday from his home, 408A Russell avenue.

McArdle's health had been failing since an operation five months ago. He became ill in Kansas City several days before he returned to St. Louis. He had a business engagement Friday, but did not keep the appointment.

He lived with his two sisters and a niece at the Russell avenue address. McArdle is 5 feet 5 inches tall, weighs 128 pounds, has blue eyes, black hair and when last seen wore a blue suit, pink shirt, black derby, black shoes and gray overcoat. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Reasons for the Parkway.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
The movement now in progress for a central parkway from Twelfth street to Grand avenue, between Market and Lawton, is one which should have the active support of every citizen of our city.

One of the greatest needs of the city is an attractive front door through which visitors may receive a good first impression of St. Louis. At present the first impression made on a stranger's mind and the last impression carried away by a departing guest is a ride for many blocks from the Union Station through ugly streets lined with ugly buildings which repel instead of attracting people.

Before one can see the splendid office and mercantile section east of Twelfth street, the city hall and Municipal Court Building, between Twelfth and Fourteenth streets, the Public Library and other buildings in its vicinity, and the boulevards, parks and residences west of Grand avenue, it is necessary to pass through streets which produce an impression of squalor and dilapidation, which does a great injustice to the beautiful parts of the city.

In nearly every foreign city, and in many of our American municipalities, an attractive approach is recognized as a great commercial asset. In private life everyone seeks to make his home and his place of business look inviting to those who enter. The same motive which actuates the cleaning of large buildings, the beautifying of small and large homes and the expenditure of large sums annually therefor should appeal to every property owner even though he may be compelled to pay for the benefits received from the Central Parkway. A city with as many beautiful parks, homes, public and private buildings and streets as St. Louis has should make every effort to invite people to come here by giving them a bright and attractive first impression. All of us who pay taxes and have interests in the city ought to work for the Central Parkway and for an attractive front door to St. Louis.

There is another very practical reason why such a parkway should be built. East and west traffic from Grand avenue east is already congested. Locust street is narrow and lined with automobile salesrooms, with automobiles always on the street. The parkway would offer a traffic way for fast moving vehicles, thus relieving the present congestion which is bound to increase with the growth of our city. The Strand in London, and Fifth avenue in New York have been widened in recent years at enormous expense and the time is very opportune for us to make provisions for present and future needs while land values are low and no valuable improvements have been erected.

J. LIONBERGER DAVIS.

Statesmen and Patriots.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
All honor to those Republicans in Congress who have voted right on measures for the benefit of the whole country. They are genuine statesmen and patriots. Democrats and Republicans alike should have no partisan bias when the good of the country is to be considered.

INDEPENDENT.

A True Public Guardian.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Having an appointment near Central High School, on Grand avenue near Finney, the other day, I could not help but notice a large, stout policeman that helped the small school children across Grand avenue. Grand avenue at this point is a very busy and dangerous street, even for an adult. The children would come singly or in bunches, but would always wait for their friend. He seemed to know them all and all know him. He with a smile and they with their chatter would grab his hands, or if he did not have hands enough, each would hold a finger and go skipping and talking across the street in safety. My only regret was he was too busy for me to go and shake hands with him and ask him to be my friend. I have two children of my own, and I am sure we taxpayers are proud of such men as these, who do such careful and I may say strenuous work with a happy hello and a smile for our kiddies.

A SALESMAN.

Where to Find the Comet.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
As it seems a good many people are making inquiries about Delavan's Comet, I take pleasure in advising you it is now located just above Arcadia, the bright yellow star low in the northwestern sky, just at dusk. I viewed it last night through my telescope. I sent you an article about this comet about a week ago, but it has moved a great distance since that time. It should be plainly seen any night next week, with the naked eye. The light of your "Humboldt" moon is so strong now it is blurring the tail of the comet. When the moon is absent from the sky the tail should show plainly.

It must be borne in mind that the comet must be looked for low in the northwestern sky just at dusk, for it sets soon after.

ASTRONOMER.

THE WILSON INDOREMENT.

A Democratic majority in the House of Representatives, no matter how small, is a notable achievement for the Wilson administration.

In considering the significance of the congressional elections it must be borne in mind that Mr. Wilson was a minority President. The vote which carried the President and his party into power was more than a million and a quarter short of a majority. Democratic success two years ago was gained by a split of Republicans. The party had not won the country.

In Tuesday's election the split was practically wiped out. Except in a few spots the Progressive vote was negligible. It ceased to be a party to reckon with. The Democrats had to contend against an almost united Republican party.

The battle was fought under adverse conditions. Hard times invariably cause a reaction against the administration. The unemployed and the discontented do not reason, as a rule, but strike at the party in power. Only exceptional circumstances have saved former administrations from mid-term defeats.

The depression caused by the war and the necessity of war taxes to meet the deficiency of imports was used without conscience or mercy by Republican organs and spellbinders. The great measures of reform enacted by the administration were not tested, but were charged with all the calamities brought on by the war.

That despite all the conditions militating against sane, intelligent judgment the Wilson administration retains a majority in both houses of Congress is an extraordinary mark of popular confidence. It is ground for gratification and reassurance. The President will complete his good work.

GETTING BACK TO NORMAL.

Reports of railroad earnings issued in New York Monday afford additional proof that industrial conditions are improving. Here are some of the significant figures:

The Pennsylvania system's net earnings for September, 1914, were $254,000 larger than for September, 1913.

The Missouri Pacific system's September gross earnings showed an increase of $115,357; net earnings increased $74,146. From July 1 to Sept. 30 gross earnings gained $45,898; net, $25,441.

The Big Four road's September gain in net earnings was $161,373. Its net earnings from Jan. 1 to Sept. 30 were $7,864,513, an increase over the same period last year of $1,449,582.

The New York Central lines: Operating income, September, 1914, $565,825 larger than in September, 1913.

An increase in railroad earnings means an increase in commerce.

The country is on the road back to "business as usual."

WHAT COULD BE EXPORTED?

In a political landslide there is no chance for independent victories. The tail goes with the hide.

That the majorities in the sweeping St. Louis victory of the Republicans ranged from 8000 to 25,000 is reassuring. The independent voter was unable to control the result, but was very busy with his pencil.

Judge Holtcamp fell many thousand below the leading candidates of his party, but polled a surprisingly good majority. The rebuke should be salutary. The landslide saved Karl Kimmel from defeat with only 8000 votes to spare. We hope Mr. Kimmel will agreeably disappoint his critics. The Democratic organization does not shine in the St. Louis or the Missouri returns. With McClung, whose boycott letter defeated his own candidate in Jefferson City, at the head of the State committee, and with a local committee made up largely of men who foist nominees like John P. Collins on the party, what could be expected?

ST. LOUIS IN ART.

The Potter Palmer gold medal, carrying a cash prize of $1000, has been awarded to Richard E. Miller in the exhibition of American painting and sculpture at the Chicago Art Institute. The Potter Palmer medal is the blue ribbon of the prizes and was won from a group of 370 exhibits by leading American painters and sculptors.

Richard E. Miller is a son of St. Louis. As a youth, entering his art career, he did his first work in the art department of the Post-Dispatch. When he quit the Post-Dispatch he went to Paris, which has since been his home. He has gone far. The Potter Palmer prize is a pleasant bagatelle to a man who has won the highest honors in France and whose genius has been recognized wherever his work has been exhibited.

St. Louis has made noteworthy contributions to the ranks of the artists and it is gratifying to mark signs of renewed activity here in the art field. The gift to the Art Museum by the St. Louis Art League of Barnett's picture, a stunning bit of winter landscape, painted in Forest Park, is a good stroke by that newly organized body which gives promise of achievement. The Barnett painting won the landscape prize in the unusually good spring exhibition at the Artists' Guild of the work of St. Louis artists who have joined in another excellent exhibition at Healy's.

OLDEST AMERICAN NEWSPAPER.

Hartford, Conn., boasts the oldest newspaper in the United States—the Courant, which has just celebrated its one hundred and fiftieth anniversary by issuing a handsome special edition.

In its century and a half existence the Hartford Courant has witnessed many startling changes. Its first issue, Oct. 29, 1764, saw the American Colonies still subjects of King George. Twelve years later its subscribers and advertisers were shouldering arms and sacrificing life and property for the cause of independence. The paper was the first in Connecticut to print the Declaration of Independence. It had George Washington on its subscribers' list.

Its first issue was entirely without headlines, which appear to have been a later invention. In those days Hartford had but one mail a week, and the date of issuance of the paper was fixed accordingly. In 1790, the year of Washington's death, it boasted of 4950 "respectable patrons." In 1825, when the paper was 61 years old, it published a cut of the first railway train in America—a singular affair, reproduced along with the rest of the Courant's history in the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary number.

Surely immortality must be the lot of a journal with such an unbroken and successful career. At any rate, that is what we wish for it.

PENNY WISE AND POUND FOOLISH.

The few taxpayers who object to the bridge bond issue because it must be paid for by taxation are penny wise and pound foolish.

If the bridge is not completed the city will have to pay the bonds already issued—the cost of the bridge so far—without any return. The millions spent on it will be thrown away. There will be no compensation for the $490 a day the city is paying. Could there be a worse business transaction? But the bridge will be completed—if not by a bond issue, then by an increase in the tax rate.

The present Municipal Assembly voted to increase the tax rate to 10 cents to complete the bridge. The Mayor vetoed the increase with the understanding that he would accept it if the bond issue failed.

The municipal government would be justified in an increase of taxation to complete the bridge because every proposal for a bridge bond issue has received a large majority of votes. The proposals have failed because they required a two-thirds majority.

It is impossible to beat a majority in this country. It enforces its will one way or another. If the Kiel administration does not complete the bridge an administration which will do it will be elected.

The bridge must be completed. Defeating bond issues merely postpones the day at great cost and will force the completion of the bridge by a tax increase. This will mean payment in a year or two by heavy taxation instead of in 30 years by light taxation.

NOVELIST WELLS ON SNIPING.

Novelist H. G. Wells warns the Kaiser that if England is invaded the whole civil population, led by Mr. Wells himself, will take to sniping. "We'll be shot if we do and we'll be shot if we don't," like the Belgians," he says in effect. "Therefore we'll snipe." If any English, fearing for their property, refuse to join him, he will see to it that enough sniping is done to place such property in jeopardy of destruction. It is to be feared that his latest statement has more of rhetoric than common sense. Just think of the fresh, unconventional material an invasion would supply for his successors as writers of British novels.

"A German raid on England," he says, "would not be fought; it would be lynched." But supposing the police declined to permit him to lynch them or that the Germans themselves showed a reluctance about being lynched?

HOW PENROSE WON.

Mr. Penrose has won, but it is charged that in spite of limits on expenditure and other prohibitions of corrupt practice acts, virtually every discredited device heretofore employed in Pennsylvania has been revived to enable him to win. On the other hand, the Philadelphia Ledger says that in no prior campaign in that State have so many determined men been on the watch to ascertain the sources of political funds and the use made of them. That paper's final warning before election was this:

If Mr. Penrose is elected on the face of the returns, he will find awaiting him at Washington complete evidence, duly authenticated of the means by which he managed to secure an apparent plurality. That testimony would be so complete and convincing that not a dozen Senators from the whole United States would dare vote in favor of seating Mr. Penrose.

Perhaps Mr. Penrose would have obtained a plurality anyway. But unless the new Federal corrupt practices act is to become a farce, it is deemed vital that it shall be vindicated and made effective from the very first election in which Senators are chosen by popular vote. The issue of Penrose's title to his seat will become, it is predicted, as notorious as the issue of the Lorimer title.

THE KNOCKER WHO HIRED A HALL.

The other night a prominent New Orleans citizen who desired to chasten the old town that he loved but didn't altogether admire hired a hall in which to relieve himself of some long-accumulated criticisms.

Said he: "When a man has a grouch he should not worry his friends with it, but hire a hall and advertise. Those who don't want to hear him can stay away. I never grumble to a man who has to listen to me. I pay for the privilege of grumbling to people who like to hear it."

Thus everybody has a good time and the freedom of speech is given some good health and invigorating exercise. Maybe it is good for the town, too, to get a first-class "bawling out," as the New Orleans prom. cit. affirmed. But in any event it can't hurt the town. If "bawling out" could hurt or destroy a town the whole area of this country would resemble the region of the Dead Sea and ancient Jericho. The most criticized, censured and condemned town in the United States is Chicago—and look at the blamed thing! The great danger that Kansas City runs is the absence of knockers—they put in all their time boasting. They are too likely to lull themselves to sleep with their paean of self-praise, and wake up to find the ideal commonwealth of the Happy Valley a back number.

The New Orleans man declared in his hired hall that his town contains more knockers in proportion to population than any other city—but he didn't mean to be bragging. The fact is that knockers are builders, and they are bound to make of New Orleans something more than a "stately pleasure dome" before they get through with it. What would St. Louis have been, what would St. Louis be, without its devoted guild who wield the hammer?

THE DREAMS OF AGE.

As Galatea, thrilled by vital spark
From altar where youth's incense burns,
Cold, child's marble breathes amaze
And wakes in wonder from the screen,
Dawn, breaking from the shrouds of Night,
Comes dancing o'er the bending ferns,
Dream rises from the far flown days
That crowned her Vestal, virgin queen
Still regal in the phantasm bright
She takes her flight!

Comes Echo, ancient dreams that thrill,
The gorgeous links of Memory's chain
And raptures beyond the poet's pen.
Beyond the spirit of Song to tell—
Clouds iridescent, the flowers, the trees
Wood folk and fairy, the vale and hill,
The wings of Vesper o'er the billow'd grain,
The gray thatched cot far down the glen,
Where mountain shadows softly fell—
Ere broke the spell!

Rose tinted ghosts—superbly rare!
The laughing legions train in view
That floods the ether to the end,
The fays and whisking star maid play—
Beyond the Singer's concept fair—
The crimson, purples and the blue
In dreams transcendent prism blend,
When Selene weds the God of Day,
The Night rose blooms in poet's lair,
Where moon folk play!

Elf, pixie, startlet—the phantom crew,
Enveloped in the drowsing scene,
Bacchantes whirl in volupé dance,
The wild abandon, the god of loves;
Toast Titania in Elysian brew,
Crown fair Barbos the Aer Land been.

While thy scaphs from the clouds' expanse
Float down as lilliputian doves
That from some starry dove cot flew—
The dream to view!

Beloved splendors! The poet's idle dream,
The flimsy fancies of the dreamer's brain,
Oilt echoes from the long-fled days,
Youth's stars, Age would fain forget—
Old hours, old scenes in dying gleam
Of hope, vengeance, love—the stellar train.

That Floods Old Memory in a haze;
Dead splendors are the night hath set
Upon the horrors of Life's Stygian day—
The Farce—wastrels play!

Arkansas Diamonds.

Pike County, Arkansas, has several diamond mines which are being operated on a commercial basis. One day a poor farmer, living near Murfreesboro, while sitting on a rock brooding over his troubles, had his attention attracted by a small pebble glistening in the sunlight. Curious as to its nature, he picked it up and carried it to the town merchants, who offered him 50 cents for it. Upon being forwarded to a Little Roca Jeweler it was learned that the stone was in reality a white diamond of excellent quality, weighing 4 1/2 karats, and in a few weeks the farmer sold his property for $3,000.

This, according to Popular Mechanics, was the start in Pike County's mining industry. A typical diamond bearing formation of several acres was found to exist where the first stone was picked up. Since the beginning of operations one company has removed 1400 stones with an aggregate weight of 550 karats.

The exact yield of the other mines is not known, the results having been kept secret, but it is approximated at 3000 diamonds of unknown weight. The largest stone so far discovered and officially reported weighed 4 1/2 karats.

While the sizes are not unusual, the quality is said to be exceptional, many of the diamonds being as flawless as are ordinarily found. The fields, moreover, are said to be relatively rich. The celebrated De Beers and Kimberley mines of Africa grade 10 karats, approximately, and are as rich as any in the world, while the first "pipe" uncovered in Arkansas has tested 20 karats. The grading is computed in the number of karats recovered from one hundred loads of earth, each amounting to 15 cubic feet.

The plants now running at the Arkansas field are, however, not large, and the work is yet in only the earliest stage of development. The digging has been limited to shallow excavations covering several acres, and the mining so far done is more in the nature of a test.

ALL FIGHT.

Now the Turk has cast the die,
Who is there remaining shy?
Why not everybody cry?

What's the odds, ye merry men,
If the combatants are ten,
Or as many, say, again?

All fight, enemy and friend,
Battle to the bitter end,
Past forgiveness or amend.

All fight!
In the battle fierce and fell,
Let us make of earth a hell!
Who is there shall live to tell?

All fight!
Is there someone in the din
Sighing for what might have been?
Capture him and pull him in.

All fight!
Let the guileless share the lot
Of the guilty, duffly caught,
If they would or they would not.

All fight!
All fight, yellow, white and black!
See there's no one holding back;
All together in a sack.

All fight!
Christian, pagan, Moslem—all Faiths cover great and small—
Let them answer to the call.

All fight!

Sen. Culpeper Blames His Defeat on Pevely Sadders.

(By Lewis B. Ely.)

In Tuesday's election Senator Culpeper went down to ignominious defeat, receiving so few votes as hardly to be heard of at all.

Sen. Culpeper lays his defeat mainly to the unpopularity of his tired-man Pevely Sadders. Says the Senator:

"This no-account fellow, who has made himself notorious by his loose speech and dissolute views on grave public matters, has been a bad advertisement for me. A great many people naturally suspected that he got his ideals from me, and that he also imitated me in some of his personal habits."

"Consequently the Prohibitionists and county unit people fought me tooth and nail. The Progressives regarded me as an enemy, and the small handful who voted gave Mr. Sager their support. The Republicans did not feel like breaking away from Mr. Atkins at the last minute. The Democrats, including many of my own close friends, stood valiantly by Sen. Stone. This was no time for an independent candidate, especially handicapped as I was by my association with Pevely Sadders, who would bring discredit on anybody who might be thought responsible for him in any way. I repudiated him in every way possible, but the mere fact that our names have been coupled proved too much for me."

"The women might have helped me if they had had a vote—but I am not even sure of that, when I look at Pevely. Pevely Sadders would have beaten Senator Stone!"

BOBBY'S NATURAL SURPRISE.
From the Boston Traveler.

Bobbie had made his first trip from Boston, spent the week end with his grandmother in New Hampshire and returned feeling like a veritable globe-trotter. He spoke about having "been off on his vacation" and expressed surprise that more changes had not occurred during his absence from home.

"See The Traveler" says the Germans are threatening Calais," remarked his father at supper.

"My goodness!" exclaimed Bobbie, with contempt in his tones, "is that was still going on?"

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

ARMY AND NAVY PROMOTIONS.

HAGLE.—Private in regular army may become noncommissioned officer or Second Lieutenant. Lieutenant-General Chaffee was a private in the same year. The rule is a common one as a naval officer is now open to any young American between the ages of 17 and 21. The naval appropriation bill, approved June 30, 1914, says: "Hereafter in addition to the appointment of midshipmen to the United States Naval Academy as now prescribed by law, the Secretary of the Navy is allowed to appoint annually from 10 to 20 enlisted men of the navy who are citizens of the United States and not more than 25 years of age on the date of entrance to the naval academy, and who shall have served not less than one year as enlisted men on the date of entrance. Provided that such appointment shall be made in order of merit from candidates who have in competition with each other passed the mental examination now or hereafter required by law for entrance to the navy academy, and who passed the physical examination required before entrance under existing law." This means that any young American citizen, second body and possessing a good common school education who will regularly enlist in the navy will be eligible to take the examination for one of these appointments to the naval academy after he has served one year if he is then under 25 years of age. The minimum age for enlistment in the navy is 17 years. The requirements of candidates for entrance to the naval academy are briefly as follows: (a) Must be of good moral character and unimpaired. (b) Physical: Sound, well-formed body and robust constitution. Must be free from any disease, deformity or result of injury that would impair efficiency. Must have 20-20 vision in each eye without use of glasses and have perfect color sense. (c) Mental: Candidates will be examined mentally in punctation, English grammar, geography, United States history, arithmetic, algebra through quadratic equations, and geometry (five books of Chauvenet's geometry or equivalent). Deficiency in any one of these subjects may be sufficient to insure the rejection of the candidate. Maximum mark, 400; passing mark, 250. Certificates from colleges and high schools will not be accepted in lieu of entrance examinations. After passing the above examination satisfactorily the candidate is admitted to the academy bearing the title of midshipman, and he is paid by the Government $600 per year. The course at the academy lasts four years. At graduation the midshipman is given a commission by the President of the United States as an ensign, who is first lieutenant of a regular naval officer and corresponds in rank to a Second Lieutenant in the army. The pay of an ensign is $1700 (with certain additional allowances) per year. From the ensign's position he is regularly promoted in accordance with the laws of Congress.

E. J. W.—One divorced outside of Illinois does not have to wait a year to be married in Illinois.

DISGUSTED.—See Prosecuting Attorney, Municipal Court Building, in regard to husband who does not support you.

CARL.—In Illinois the word "company" may be used by an unincorporated concern if such words as "not incorporated" are used with the name.

QUERY.—Chicago, Ill., Circuit Court, $4 filing fee. If attorney is employed he charges another fee. Name of the case must be given. If court if change is with an honest purpose.

LENA.—If you owe a man $5 and refuse to pay him, and he snatches a $5 bill that you display in his presence, a jury might find the man liable for assault, finding only what belonged to him, and we cannot say just how you would fare in case of his having a gun.

ONE WHO IS WORRIED.—If you can show that you have led a good life, and are yet in the right way, and the firm is making a loss, the stockholders, in order that they keep you out of the picture, may sue for damages.

MRS. M. C. J.—State free employment office, 514 Pine.

WITH THANKS.—Readers are weary of mirrors. See formula at this office.

ANXIOUS.—Baltimore, Denver, St. Louis, etc., have no independent states of Virginia.

THANK YOU.—Though your husband was an adopted child, the woman who cared for him and brought him up deserves the title of mother. Give it to her.

A. B.—In the courthouse at Jefferson City, you might learn something of the five Illinois judges who were the first records of St. Louis land. These books, the Historical Society says, were not put in the State Archives until 1907. ALICE.—One definition of a postgraduate is, a graduate; another: Of, pertaining to, or designating, the student pursued after graduation, especially after receiving the bachelor's degree at a college, or a student who pursues such studies.

PENNA.—Moving pictures began in this wise: Sir John Herschel in 1839 asked Charles Babbage how he would show both sides of a shilling at once. Babbage replied by taking a card from his pocket and holding it to a mirror. This did not satisfy Sir John, who set the sailing opinion on the dinner table, at the same time pointing out that if the eye is placed on a level with the rotation of the card, sides can be seen at once. Babbage was so struck by the experiment that the next day he described it to a friend, Dr. Fritton, who immediately made a series of experiments. He took a disk with a drawing of a man on the other side an empty bird cage; when the card was rotated, the man's head thread the bird appeared to be in the cage. This model showed the persistence of vision, and was the first of the moving pictures depend for their effect. The eye retains the image of the object seen for a fraction of a second after the object has been removed. Next came the stereoscope, or wheel of life. A cylinder was perforated with a series of pictures. In the cylinder was placed a band of drawings of dancing men. On the apparatus being slowly rotated, the pictures seen through the slots appeared to be in motion. The first stereoscope was taken at regular intervals of men and animals were made by Muybridge in

In the Mohawk Club

Two are rivals for a fair lady's heart—Both are carefully watched by a quiet onlooker who studies the situation, takes a hand himself, and sweeps the field.

By Theodore Roberts.

THE Mohawk Club stands on the bank of a famous river, and at the edge of a famous though sleepy old town. The town is known in other lands as a place of culture and literary prestige, but The Onlooker, that mortal who seems to do nothing but brood over the world with smiling mouth and dreamy eyes, says that for its own part it appreciates the maker of a horseshoe more than the maker of a ballad. Why this he doesn't attempt to say. But to return to the club-house.

Most of the interior is taken up by one large room with a good floor, a fireplace and a billiard table. There are many easy-chairs, also, and card tables in convenient places. When the winds churn the river into white caps and rain pelts the roof, The Onlooker finds a strange fascination in sitting by the fire and studying the men around him. But he does it with a careless air, as if sitting out in the rain would amuse him fully as much, and the men, who are all his friends, sometimes forget that he is there. A month ago The Onlooker's attention was drawn from the general crowd who played cribbage, clicked the ivory balls and told stories, to the most active members of the club, Bertam Smith and Dick Nevers. At first, like a philosopher, he accounted for the slight change in their manners by the choice of Nevers as master of ceremonies for ladies' night, but the rumor that both were in love with the same girl caused him to think it over. He watched them closely, and, making a note of the faint flush on Nevers' cheek, and the sudden light in Smith's black eyes. Sometimes their greeting was too warm for his taste—at other times they failed to see each other.

The Two Rivals.

SMITH, who was the son of a wealthy merchant, was in a fair way of running a large medical practice before many years. Dick Nevers, the son of a broken family once renowned for its horses and stables, was a writer of poems and stories, sometimes even descending to newspaper work, at 8 cents a line. The Onlooker thought from the first that Nevers had the fates against him. As they all revolved in the same social circle, the Onlooker made it his duty to follow their little romances, beyond the fireside of the Mohawk Club. So, after a week's consideration as to whether or not it was worth while, he obtained an introduction to the lady of their hearts' desire. We will call her Miss Marjorie, which may or may not be her name. From the corner to which he had fled after the introduction he looked at her carefully, as she was the chief character in the little story he was following. Her eyes were the first things he noticed; then her mouth, which was large, but fatally attractive; then her hair. He did not attempt to blame his friends, but it puzzled him to think that Nevers, wrapped up in his books and dreams, should allow a pair of eyes and a moderately charming smile to spoil his life. The Onlooker flatters himself with the belief that he has a keen insight into character and human nature, and on the strength of this he was not long in deciding that Miss Marjorie was a flirt. He enjoyed this to a certain extent, but he would think that his discovery did not lower her far in his philosophical eyes. He further noticed that when her eyes were gray, Smith was in favor, but when they softened to a wonderful blue, Dick Nevers, with his sudden rhyms, had the inside track. They both came in for rebuffs and hours of indifference at the lady's hands. Nevers swallowed these

Beauty Doctor Tells Secret

Detroit Beauty Doctor Gives Simple Recipe to Darken Gray Hair and Promote Its Growth.

Miss Alice Whitney, a well-known beauty doctor of Detroit, Mich., recently gave out the following statement: "Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, promote its growth and make it soft and glossy. To half a pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Com pound and 1/4 oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of the hair, relieve itching, dandruff and falling hair.—ADVERTISMENT.

repulses and tried to look delighted, while Smith scowled.

Playing for Stakes.

FOR a while The Onlooker seemed to find developments slow, for he kept away from his usual seat by the fire, and people wondered what he was doing. If it had been Nevers who lay low they would have said: "He is writing poetry."

About this time Smith and Nevers began to criticize one another's breeding and attire, and Smith developed a perpetual sneer.

One morning The Onlooker entered the club with his old-time stride and found six fellows standing around the billiard table. The rivals were having a game. Smith was playing spot ball. Nevers stalked his cue hurriedly, and glanced at the balls. He was close against the cushion and called for a strong draw. His face was flushed when he shot, and his eyes expressed more joy than one would have thought the occasion demanded when he scored. His next three were very easy ones, then his cue scratched and twisted, and the ball rolled harmless a few inches.

He marked up four and then watched with a wan smile while Smith made a run of ten.

The Onlooker asked if they had anything up on the game. Nevers nodded. The other fellows exchanged glances. Smith swore easily to himself as Dick made a run of difficult shots. The Onlooker, feigning a great indifference stood back, while the others closed in around the table. It was close now, with three on one string and five on the other. But The Onlooker sat in his chair and poked up a paper.

Presently Dick put his cue in the rack and went out, keeping his back to the crowd. Smith smiled softly when the door closed, then, producing his clear case, he passed it around. With a condescending smile, he went over to The Onlooker; but that harmless individual was thoughtfully pulling at his pipe, and would not take a cigar.

Early next morning Dick Nevers, accompanied by an Indian guide, started for the woods after big game.

Poets, Her Preference.

WHEN The Onlooker heard of it he swore, and Smith, who was near by, cringed. He did not like the way The Onlooker's eyes blazed wide and scrutinized him.

Once young Peeble entered the club-room noiseless and, going over to the fire, glanced over The Onlooker's shoulder. The other had a little pile of proof sheets on his knee, and was marking them with a blue pencil.

"Are you doing some work for Nevers?" asked Peeble.

The Onlooker turned the papers into his pocket and turned slowly from the fire. "Perhaps I am doing it for Nevers, and perhaps for some other man," he said; and that is all Peeble could discover.

Miss Marjorie played poor Smith so fast and loose that he almost wished Nevers had not gone away, for it had always been a comfort to him to see a companion in woe.

On the evening of the first dance of the season, The Onlooker, with a new fire in his eyes, sat with Miss Marjorie in the quiet corner. He was telling her of the billiard game, and she was giving him a philosophical eye. He further noticed that when her eyes were gray, Smith was in favor, but when they softened to a wonderful blue, Dick Nevers, with his sudden rhyms, had the inside track. They both came in for rebuffs and hours of indifference at the lady's hands. Nevers swallowed these

"What stakes were they playing for?" she asked, pretending not to see Smith, who glared from the other side of the room.

"The right of the field," he answered—"the practical man against the visionary! Are you sorry that the man of 15 years was three points short?"

The Onlooker asked this with a boldness formerly unknown to him. She looked at him curiously. Her eyes were neither blue nor gray, but of a shade he had never seen before.

"I am quite indifferent as to who got the game," she answered, "but my preference is for poets rather than other men."

The Onlooker cast a quizzical glance, but her face was averted. And, of a sudden, he remembered that he, too, was a maker of ballads.

Then this harmless, dreaming Madeline watched the red tinge the clear cheek of La Belle Dame Sans Merci. A great glow pervaded his heart and soul. Poor Nevers—poor Smith!

Another Wisconsin Plan.

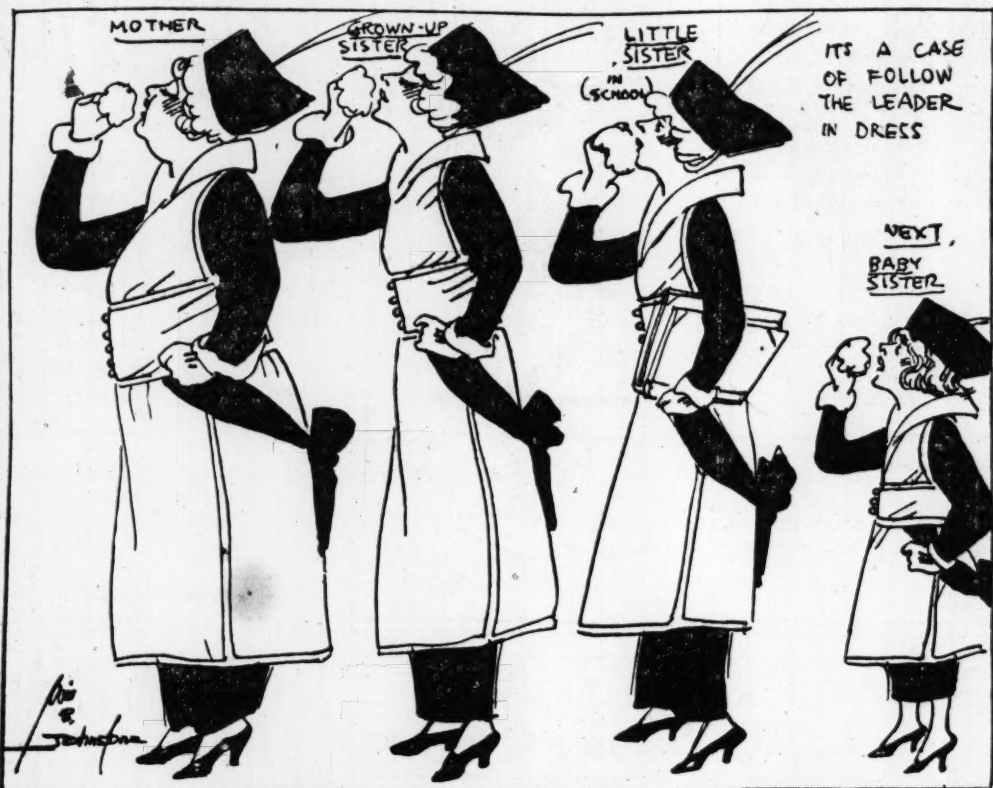

IN Wisconsin convicts are being successfully employed on road work. A representative of the National Committee on Prison and Prison Labor made a careful study of Wisconsin's present system two years ago. In his report the representative of the National Committee on Prisons recommended that all prisoners who could be placed on their honor should be employed outdoors in quarrying stone, clearing stump lands and building roads.

The Legislature of 1913, in carrying out the recommendations, authorized convicts to be employed on road work, and in 1914 two camps were established. Macadam roads are being built, and the convicts are provided with neat khaki uniforms and live and work like a hired crew, the only guards being two unarmed experts in guard building.

Thus far, the developments show the complete success of the plan and there are indications that the system will be extended as conditions permit.

"In their wives men do not care for the attributes which charmed them before marriage. The wife and mother, pleasing her husband in new ways, forgets that as a girl she probably did the very things which she cannot understand her 'daughter' doing. I can remember unashamedly using rouge on my face when I was a girl in order to make myself attractive at dances and to

High School Teacher Declares There Is a Too Free Indulgence in Old Pastime, and Blames Modern Dress as a Questionable Accessory.

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall.

Can the girl of today be induced to give up her flimsy, flashy clothes? Are there any arguments which really appeal to her?

SERIOUSLY, any method dealing with the clothes-crazy girl of today deserves weighty consideration from all interested in the problem. It is now claimed that the forces of society are against her. While we cannot approve of the way she has of dressing, at the same time we should not criticize her as an individual, for we must realize that largely she is a product of her surroundings.

Said a high-school teacher, a close friend, the other day:

"Why do our girls dress so outrageously? That is easily answered. They are playing the old game, the game as old as the rock-hilled hills the poet writes about, the game that first started in the Garden of Eden. I guess. Call it what you will in all of its modern, up-to-date, new-fangled terms, to me it is nothing but the ancient pastime of boy-catching. And what girl is there who does not know every trick of every play?"

"By her aping of foolish fashions in follow-the-leader methods the school girl of today is really trying to win social approval. In the first place, she is deluded by the economic conspiracy of men which makes 'style' consist in each woman's dressing as nearly as possible like every other, and in changing the appearance of the costumes three or four times a year. In the second place, the school girl wants to win favor with the boys she knows.

"Girls have told me that the boys do not care for them unless they are stylishly dressed. 'The transparent blouses out low in the neck, the openwork stockings, all the scanty, flimsy, revealing clothes are simply an appeal to sex. They are the legacy of the days when women had nothing else to live for. And that's the one of the things I tell my girls, that just so far as they overemphasize and challenge sex, so far as they are being traitors to the highest ideal of modern womanhood.

"I tell them that it will not be possible for them to attain their supreme development as individuals if they are continually trying to make themselves look as they imagine others want them to look. I try to show them that to be themselves is the most important thing in the world."

"But why is it," I asked, "that so many modern mothers seem unable to control their daughters in this matter of 'suitable dress'?"

"Because almost every mother desires above all things that her daughter shall be popular with the boys and therefore in line for an early marriage! If there are stains and made sure the windows were fastened. Then Madame Goose went to the door and did a very strange thing—she unlocked the door.

"He thinks he is a very smart fellow," she said to herself as she went up the stairs again; "but he may find out tonight that I have a few ideas of my own if he comes too near that door."

MR. FOX did come close to the door. He walked boldly up to the door and knocked twice with his cane; of course, he did not try to, but as far too polite to do that until he had knocked.

"Good evening, dear Madame Goose," said Mr. Fox, lifting his high hat. "I came to pay my respects. I have been so busy this winter that I could not attend to all my social duties."

"I will try to get around in the day time soon," he said, "but now that I am here I will stop a while and chat with you. How have you spent the winter?"

"Oh, I have had a very quiet time," replied Madame Goose. "With knitting for ten and mending and baking, you may be sure that I have very little time to run about and gossip with my neighbors. But I did hear that you tried to call on my friends in the barnyard."

"Yes! Yes!" said Mr. Fox, twirling his hat on his cane. "I did try several times to call, and each time I would meet some neighbor who was on his way to my home and I had to turn back. I wonder if we could chat better, Madame Goose, if you came down here?"

"WHY don't you come in?" asked Madame Goose. "You will find the door unlocked, I think. Go right in and I will be down."

He stepped in and then, before he knew what was happening, he found himself in the cellar on his back.

He made such a racket that all the little goings jumped out of bed. "Oh! mother, dear, what has happened?" they cried all at once. "Has old Mr. Fox come to carry us off?"

"Hush! hush!" said the mother. "Get back into your beds or he will hear. He is this minute in the cellar."

The ten little goings jumped into bed in a hurry. I can tell you, when they heard this, and covered up their heads.

Madame Goose went softly downstairs and looked about. Right in front of the door was a hole in the floor, and Madame Goose slipped to the edge of it and looked down into the cellar.

Mr. Fox was sitting up, rubbing his head.

"You will have to get out the way you got in," said Madame Goose. You are caught, Mr. Fox, and by a goose, too; think it over while I call master. He has been waiting to catch you all winter, but it seems he was not quite smart enough, after all."

Off ran Madame Goose to tell the dog, and Mr. Fox knew that his minutes were numbered.

Baseball Across the Sea.

Baseball is now played in every part of the Philippine archipelago, and the number of persons actually engaged in it is remarkably high. Practically every school in the islands has a team and some more than one. Thirty or more provinces have their provincial leagues among the schools, and these are supplemented by interprovincial leagues. In Manila, where the chief offices of the Government are located, there is an interbureau league running scheduled games throughout the season; an industrial league composed of teams from the employees of the various large industrial companies of the city, and the Manila Baseball League, a professional organization.

More than 25,000 persons are training for teachers in India.

PIKERS FIGURE TO WHIP ST. L. U. ON SCORE "DOPE"

Maroon Men Have the Better Record Against Stronger Teams This Season.

RECORDS OF RIVALS IN SATURDAY'S GAME

WASHINGTON
Washington 62	Ill. Normals 0
Washington 66	Shurtlett 7
Washington 69	Arkansas 19
Washington 104	Drury 18
Washington 77	Drake 7
Washington 151	Opponents 51

ST. LOUIS U.
St. Louis 20	Ill. Normals 13
St. Louis 20	Arkansas 24
St. Louis 104	Blackburn 0
St. Louis 77	Chrl. College 0
St. Louis 208	Opponents 47

By W. J. O'Connor.

If you're going to dope this battle between the Billikens and the Piker on a comparative score basis, you've got to make the Maroon a slight favorite.

Washington, in its first game, whipped Southern Illinois Normals, 62-0, while St. Louis U., a week later, upset the Normals, 20-0. Washington, since then, has played stronger teams than the Billikens, and while it is true that the Piker haven't won, it also is true that their defeats haven't been complete routs in any battle but the Rolla skirmish. Washington was completely outclassed by Rolla, although holding the Miners to 19-0, and such a defeat at the hands of a "howitzer" like Rolla is far from disgraceful. In a crippled condition the Pikers yielded to Drury, while they also were ill-prepared for a hard game when Drake called, gaining a tie withal.

Billikens Slow to Start.

The Billikens, a green lot of gallies, lost his first game to James Milliken, 13-7. Their only other defeat of the season was at the hands of Arkansas, 34-0. But it is pertinent to remember that the Razorbacks are the only team worthy of a name met by the proteges of Keenan this season.

However, there is this much to say: Since that Arkansas defeat, the Billikens have made rapid strides, over-coming Blackburn College, 14-0, and Christian College, 77-0. The only cheering feature of these games was that the Billikens showed ability to score frequently. Their top-heavy victories indicate a lack of speed and some open-field running, but in Washington the Billikens will meet a team vastly superior to either Blackburn or Christian College.

Injuries Check Pikers.

However, Washington, after a hurray start, has slowed up, partly because of injuries and partly because of disorganization which set in after the Rolla game. Conflicting stories are in circulation about the chances of Poge Lewis performing Saturday, but it is a safe bet that if the game is a see-saw affair, Lewis will be in the line of battle, either to kick a field goal or attack the line in the danger zone.

Both teams are keyed up for this match because the student bodies are placing an exaggerated value on the outcome. In some quarters attempts have been made to exploit the game as a "grudge" affair on Washington's part; an attempt to erase from the Pikeaway escutcheon the stain of that 78-0 defeat suffered at the hands of Cochem's well-organized machine.

It's Not a Grudge Fight.

Such piffle should be discouraged. Above all, Saturday's game should be a manly fight. If interest must be worked up along the lines of "grudge" and "revenge" let's stop before it starts. The best thing that could be said after next Saturday's collision is that it was cleanly fought, no matter how it results.

The game should be capably handled by the officials—Billy Connet, referee; Mike Walker, line judge; and Turner, field judge. They are best qualified of all local officials to run a game and fortunately are fearless enough to punish severely all outcroppings of rough play.

The teams are evenly enough matched to unusual an interesting game. Let's have that, sans slaughter.

There's a visitor in St. Louis today by the name of Moran. He's 19 years old and weighs 190 pounds. He has a brother named Bob who was one of the best tackles St. Louis ever owned. Now if Bob's brother likes the town he may study medicine at the Billiken school and perhaps he may yet accomplish something to make him as famous as his big brother who blocked a kick, then recovered it behind Syracuse's goal in 1911 for a touchdown that gave the Billikens a 4-6 tie on Turkey day.

The hen that cackles the loudest doesn't always lay the biggest egg.

Alfred Jordan, the champion checker player of the world, will defend his title at Kansas City on Nov. 6. Jim Flynn will be at the ring-side to challenge the winner.

A Suspicious Odor.

TOMMY WALSH, manager of an alleged prize fighter who swiped the name of "Knockout" Brown from a real fighter, is telling the good people of Kansas City that the fight fans of St. Louis are a bunch of dead ones and couldn't tell a fake fight if they saw one. It's not necessary to see it, Tommy. A blind man can smell a piece of overripe cheese when it's stuck right under his nose.

However, as Shakespeare—or was it John McCuskey—used to say: "Let the gallad jade wince."

Speaking about cheese, isn't it about time for Sam Langford and Joe Jeanette to get together again?

Quite Natural.

CONNIE MACK, in discussing his action in asking for waivers on Jack Coombs, says: "It may seem strange for me to say it, but Coombs is recovering and he is still a valuable player. He will get back in the game and be as good as ever." Not at all strange, Connie, not at all! When a man is trying to sell a broken-down horse that is blind in both eyes he is not expected to call attention to the fact. On the contrary, he is very apt to admit that he is quite considerable of a "hoos."

Jimmy Austin refuses to sign with the Browns. Looks like first division.

The Washington U. freshmen are sore. The little "Pikers" have been scratched off the free list to the big games. As a sop to their wounded feelings, though, the coach has promised to take them by-bye and give them a nice ride on the choo choo cars to Columbia, Mo., and let 'em see the tigers and the moos and watch the big boys play football.

President Johnson says that Jennings might be fined and that in the future when the League has any information to impart to Huggins they will tell it to Navin.

And the Only One.

Jimmy Austin, popularly known as the "pepper boy," on account of the way he says "at a boy," "right in there, ol' man," "y' got th' best one left," etc., etc., and so on down the line, threatens to jump the Browns unless he gets a three-year contract. There may be a division of opinion among the fans as to Jimmy's ability as a ballplayer, but we want to say right here he is the best Sunday manager in the American League.

"Cory" Dolan, the "pepper boy" of the Cardinals, is also holding out for a three-year contract from "Sky" Britton. This apparently concerted action on the part of two such well-known exponents of the "pepper" brand of baseball as Jimmy Austin and "Cory" Dolan would indicate that both of these gentlemen are members in good standing of the Pepper Boys' Union.

Three young men walked to Alton last Sunday. This is an interesting bit of information but the three young men failed to mention the most important feature in connection with the feat. They didn't say why.

It has taken considerable engineering and diplomacy to bring the Washington University and St. Louis University together. If advance information goes for anything it will take something more than diplomacy and engineering to pry them apart after they get properly "het up" next Saturday.

See where Charley Veeghman has bought another option on the Cuba Weeghman seems to be a bear on options.

Lee Magee, who jumped the Cardinals last week, hasn't fit yet. Better hurry up, Lee, and light while the lighting is good. The dove of peace has again been sighted in the offering.

CALLAHAN GETS A REAL TEST IN GO WITH HANSON

New Yorker Meets in Britisher Clever Boxer Who Shaded Paddy Kelly.

By Harry Sharpe,

Referee for the Future City A. C. and Post-Dispatch Boxing Authority.

TONIGHT'S CARD.

Main Event—Frank Callahan of New York City vs. Jack Hanson of Birmingham, England, 8 rounds, weight 130 pounds at 3 p. m.

Semi-Final—Joe Demelfi ("Young Zulu Kid") of Brooklyn, N. Y., vs. Jimmy Murphy of the South Broadway Athletic Club, 8 rounds, weight 112 pounds.

Preliminary—Archie McLeod of St. Louis vs. Nate Kalb of Chicago, Ill., 8 rounds, weight 116 pounds.

Exhibition—Leo Schneider and Earl Burns, 4 rounds, weight 115 pounds.

The above card constitutes the boxing arrangement for the Future City Athletic Club's entertainment of its members for tonight, the show having been postponed from its regular Tuesday night owing to the election of yesterday.

Callahan, who appears in the feature event against Hanson, comes here with many complimentary notices received by him in the East and if he is as good as they make him out to be he is apt to score a big hit here on his first appearance. When facing Hanson he will meet a clever boxer, manly English style, who had but little trouble in defeating the rugged Paddy Kelly in the ring of the Future City A. C. three weeks ago. He failed to stop Kelly, but easily outboxed him.

The principals in tonight's bout have been training earnestly and are reported to be in good condition, with neither having any trouble making the required weight.

Zulu Kid Promising Boy.

"The Zulu Kid" is said to be a comer by those who have watched him in training, and he'll have to be if he defeats Murphy, as the South St. Louis boy is one of the cleverest boxers of his weight in the city.

Nate Kalb, the eccentric little Chicago boxer, rushes in where angels would fear to tread and is generally regarded before his motives are understood. He has style and generalship unlike anything ever seen in a St. Louis ring, and when used by him, circling the ring at full speed, then suddenly bounding against the ropes and hanging there with one hand while he pokes and swings at his opponent with the other is one of the peculiar methods resorted to by him and usually convulses the spectators with laughter.

Kalb a Glutton for Work.

The diminutive ring comedian can really box in the orthodox style when he is a mind to, but seldom clings to this very long at a time. Also, he is a glutton for punishment and has several times in his career here survived an avalanche of it. Many members of the Future City A. C. will recall how he survived the withering fire of Jabes White in a bout that took place before the club last season. Knocked down three times in the first round, then steadily himself with his hand on the top rope he stood in the ring while White filled his face with gloves until the bell sounded. Few boxers would have withstood the ordeal, but Kolb not only came back a minute afterward and stayed the eight rounds, but gave a good account of himself, though he lost on points.

Huggins Will Be Here Friday to Locate Training Quarters

MANAGER HUGGINS of the Cardinals will arrive Friday from Cincinnati to go over with President Britton plans for releasing certain "excess baggage" and also to select, if possible, a training camp for next spring. The Cards have given up the idea of training at St. Augustine, and also have lost out on Gulfport, Miss. For a time there was a scheme on to take the players to Havana, but that also has fallen through and it is now up to the management to look for new quarters.

Hug will go to the Minor League camp in Omaha, accompanied by Boss Britton and his scouts, Connery and Herr, before he returns to Cincinnati.

Coast League Rated Too High.

A Los Angeles critic offers an explanation for the troubles of the Coast League, penning the following statistical facts:

CENTRAL-MANUAL GAME IS FEATURE OF "PREP" CARD

Battles This Week End Will Be of Minor Importance to High School Race.

With the exception of the Central-Manual game, there will be a lull in prep gridiron affairs Saturday. Four games are scheduled but, aside from this contest, they are all minor engagements. Soldan tackles Smith, McKinley will do battle with the weak East St. Louis High eleven and Yeatman High vs. Principia Academy.

There have been so many upsets in the high school circle this year that it is quite precarious to attempt to fathom the "dopes" in prep judging by the manner in which Soldan walked over Manual. Coach Walker's charges should not have a great deal of trouble in defeating the gold and black aggregation this week.

Manual boasts of a number of individual stars, but the team does not work together. Central, evidently, is now the strongest team in the city, as Walker's lads have mastered team play and now may be included in that elite class known as "machines."

One Big Game to Come.

Despite the fact that the football season has several weeks yet to run, there is but one remaining contest that is looked forward to with great interest by the scholastic fans. That is the Soldan-Central game, which will be played Nov. 7. This game which has decided the "prep" championship for the past three years heretofore has been played on Thanksgiving morning. However, one of the other schools objected to the cornering of the financial plum by Soldan and Central and consequently Sordan meets McKinley this Turkey day. It is to be deplored that the old rivals do not meet on the season's closing day, for several reasons. In the first place the largest crowd in years would attend and the game would be better contested.

At present Central seems to outclass the West End eleven and with the game but two weeks away looks like the victor. However, had Coach Kelly from now until Thanksgiving day to prep his eleven, there is no doubt that the teams would be on even terms. The Soldan team is very green, but it has the class, and a few weeks of practice would put it in tip-top shape.

Title Will Be Clouded.

However, no matter who wins the Soldan-Central game, the title will not be decided. The St. Louis U. Undergrads have an equal claim to the championship, having tied Central, 0-0, and beaten the McKinley team by the same score that Central did, 20-0. Another mistake that the school authorities made it seems, is not to have booked Soldan and the Undergrads. These two schools broke athletic relations several years ago after an exceedingly rough game.

When Central and the Undergrads met this year, the junior Billikens seemed the stronger of the teams. However, the central-city lads have made such an improvement that they now are evidently the masters of every school team in the city.

C. B. C. Fails in Effort To Book Rolla Battle; Teams to Play in 1916

A definite announcement was made by the Rolla School of Mines Athletic Board, over long-distance phone yesterday, that the Miners would be unable to meet the Christian Brothers College team this season. The reason given was that the numerous trips of the squad was taking too much of the players' time away from their studies. The Rolla authorities expressed the wish that the two teams would meet next year.

TIGERS POOREST SCORING MACHINE OF BIG ELEVEN

Withal Princeton, Harvard and Penn State Are Only Unbeaten Teams in East.

Princeton, this season, has proved itself the poorest scoring machine in the college East, although its record as yet doesn't contain a stain of defeat. A tie, 7-7, with Williams, is the closest shave the orange and black has experienced. Harvard also has an unblemished record, but has scored many more points than the Tiger.

Penn State, owning a tie, 13-13, with Harvard, has otherwise a clean record, the Crimson being the only machine to score on Bill Hollenback's squad. Hollenback once coached at Missouri.

Two teams in the East have not been beaten or tied. They are Pittsburgh U. and the Army. Some of the major teams are:

Princeton Improves Under Ed Hart, the "Gorilla Man" Brickley Kicks 10 Out of 12 Goals

Far-Famed Harvard Kicker Promises to Be Menacing Factor to Tigers in Big Battle at Cambridge Saturday—Orange and Black Going at Top Speed.

By Robert Edgren,

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.

THE sudden improvement of the Princeton football team under the hard driving of Eddie Hart is only another example of the influence of the individual. Hart is a masterful man. When captain of the Tiger team he was by far the most active player on the field.

He was the strongest man that ever went to Princeton—possibly the strongest man that ever played football on any of the big college teams. They used to compare his strength to that of the gorilla—there being nothing else handy to compare it to. Shaking hands with him was like thrusting your fingers into a clothes wringer. The men who played against him finished every game covered with black and blue marks where Hart's hands had touched them. His grip on a man's arm was a thing to be feared—even when he gripped playfully. And with it all he was filled with the most tremendous enthusiasm.

Team Inhales Hart's Enthusiasm. Now, coaching, he runs with the plays and can cover the length of the football field as swiftly as the best of the backs. He is everywhere, in everything, seeing everything, shouting and urging his men on. After a few days the Princeton team found itself playing with Eddie Hart's energy, unconsciously drawing from his boundless vitality, tearing into every thing like so many Harms. A team under such direction is likely to upset all dope. The Tigers will be worth watching when they meet Harvard Saturday.

The form the Harvard regulars have shown in practice the last two days caused the gloom at Cambridge to lift with the suddenness of a high wind chasing a fog. Disappointment over the Crimson's failure to score more than seven points against Michigan has given way to a strong feeling of confidence. All because Mahan, Logan, Penock and the other scrappers have finally returned after a long absence, which apparently didn't harm their playing. Now that the Houghton machine is running smoothly again, the Crimson supporters are beginning to talk right out how Princeton and Yale will be defeated.

STALLINGS PICKS HIS OWN TEAM AS AN ALL-STAR NINE

"Miracle Man" Says Braves Could Beat a Club Composed of Nine Ty Cobbs.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—George Stallings, manager, and manager, has picked an all-American baseball team. This is the lineup: First base, Schmidt; second base, Evers; shortstop, Maranville; third base, Red Smith or Deal; outfielders, Moran, Mann, Whiting, Connelly and Cather; catchers, Whaling and Dewey; pitchers, Rudolph, Tyler and James. The all-American team of Stallings is the Boston Braves.

"I don't see how I can get away from it," the manager explained. "The Boston club beat every record in baseball when it won four straight games from the Athletics. A team is a combination. To make it a success you must combine certain elements. It is a delicate adjustment of forces. The Braves represent just such a combination. We have team work, and better yet, we have team spirit. I would not change a man." As a matter of fact, Stallings continued, "a lot of my players are not yet rated at their true worth. I suppose you could hardly find a man who would pick Schmidt as a better first baseman than Daubert. Now Daubert is a great ball player, but I'd stick to Schmidt. They called him a joke when he played his first series in New York, when he went all through the season and never dropped one throw ball."

Three Great Gunners. Nowhere in the blurred pages of baseball history are found records greater than those of the three pitchers Connie Mack has decided to cast aside. Bender, Plank and Coombs worked faithfully and long for Mack, but they have run their course and are ready for the scrap heap.

Plank is the oldest pitcher in the American League. Excepting Harry Davis, he is the only man on the team who was with Mack when he started his Philadelphia career in 1901. Plank has been rated as the greatest left-hander in the game, but he isn't able to take part in many whole games any more.

Bender No Iron-Man.

Bender joined Mack in 1903 from Carle, and made good at once. The chief is renowned as a great one-game pitcher.

er, but like Plank, is no iron man. During the past season he won 15 games in a row, the season's record in the American League. Coombs is a product of Colby College. He reported in 1909 and in 1910 and 1911 became known as the iron man because of his aptitude for extra work. Coombs contracted typhoid of the spine down South on the training trip in 1913 and has been unable to pitch ever since. Carried two seasons on full pay, without being able to take his turn on the mound, Coombs has been treated generously by the club, and his release this winter was predicted. Here are Bender's and Plank's records:

'SMATTER POP?

Not the Idea—Not Exactly!

STOPS BACKACHE: LUMBAGO: RUB IT

Rub away Pain, Soreness, Stiffness, Sciatica, with St. Jacobs Oil.

Back hurt you? Can't straighten up without feeling sudden pains, sharp aches and twinges? Now listen! That's lumbago, sciatica or maybe from a strain, and you'll get blessed relief the moment you rub your back with soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil." Nothing else takes out soreness, lameness and stiffness so quickly. You simply rub it on and out comes the pain. It is perfectly harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

Lumber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.—ADV.

The Jarr Family

By ROY L. MCCARDELL.

Mr. Bernard Blodger Hisses and Rattles.

In the last, it will be remembered, we left Mr. Jarr at home in one town, and Mrs. Jarr in another and still at the home of the Cackleberry girls, whither she was conveyed in the wild ride of Mr. Cecil Dredgingham.

"And how are you, Mr. Blodger?" asked Mrs. Jarr. She really did not care how the young second husband of the mother of the Cackleberry girls was, but one must make these inquiries as a matter of form when one drops in unexpectedly.

"I'm still a snake!" replied Mr. Bernard Blodger. "I am still King Snake of the local den of the Society of Splendid and Sagacious Snakes, that Great, Grand and Growing Offensive and Defensive Order of Militant Married Men! And our watchword is 'His, Brothers! His and Rattle!' The Wife Has No Rights! His, Brothers! His and Rattle!"

And every time Mr. Bernard Blodger said "His and Rattle!" he hissed through his teeth and rattled the big gold buttons in his celluloid cuffs. "Oh, shut up, Barney, you big booby! You make me tired!" snarled Miss Irene Cackleberry.

"Now, you girls don't sass your Pawr!" cried Mrs. Blodger. "I do declare, Mrs. Jarr, just because Bernard kept company with the girls first!"

"He found out our dear dead, real Pawr had foolishly left everything in your name!" interjected Miss Gladys Cackleberry.

Mr. Bernard Blodger, who was a very large and beefy young man, who, it appeared, was permanently temporarily unemployed, rattled his coffee cup to signify he wanted more coffee—they were breakfasting—rattled the morning newspaper and rattled his cuff buttons—his life was one whole rattling goon time, and he serenely smiled. His attitude toward his stepdaughters was one of genial cynicism. He evidently did not think it worth denying that he had married for a good home.

Seeing that everybody but his wife hated him, Mrs. Jarr, to keep in practice till she got back home, gave a snap at the self-assured king snake and cried sharply: "Don't rattle those awful celluloid cuffs! It makes me nervous!"

"It is my prerogative to rattle, to hiss and rattle!" retorted Mr. Blodger. "That is, until I am rendered fangless and a sentiment to allience."

Noting Mrs. Jarr's look of interest, Mr. Blodger condescended to explain: "When a brother Snake succumbs to henpeckery, he is fanged. He is compelled to wear tight twisted rubber bands around the shanks of his cuff buttons, and no more may he raise his hands and hiss and rattle! Then he turned to his wife and said abruptly: 'Miss Sally, gimme 10 cents!'"

He always called his wife "Miss Sally." It made her feel she was still young, all his methods were not so cloy—especially when he needed pocket money.

"Bernard, dear, you had your allowance of 50 cents a week, yesterday," replied Mrs. Blodger.

"Ain't I getting my gold toothpick mended, and it will cost 10 cents?" remarked Mr. Blodger. "How can I stand around the hotel and discuss the war and the financial stringency in a refined manner without my gold toothpick? Gimme 10 cents!"

"I ain't going to give you 10 cents again today," said Mrs. Blodger. "But, Bernard, dear, I'm going to give you an automobile. A gentleman left it out on the grass plot, after bringing Mrs. Jarr and the girls over this morning. And, my gracious! It's raining. The automobile will get all wet. Why don't they make 'em so they'll fold up, so one could bring them in the house when it rains?"

"An automobile! Not a cheap one! I wouldn't ride in a cycle car!" declared Mr. Blodger, who, like many other people, only wanted the best when he was offered something for nothing.

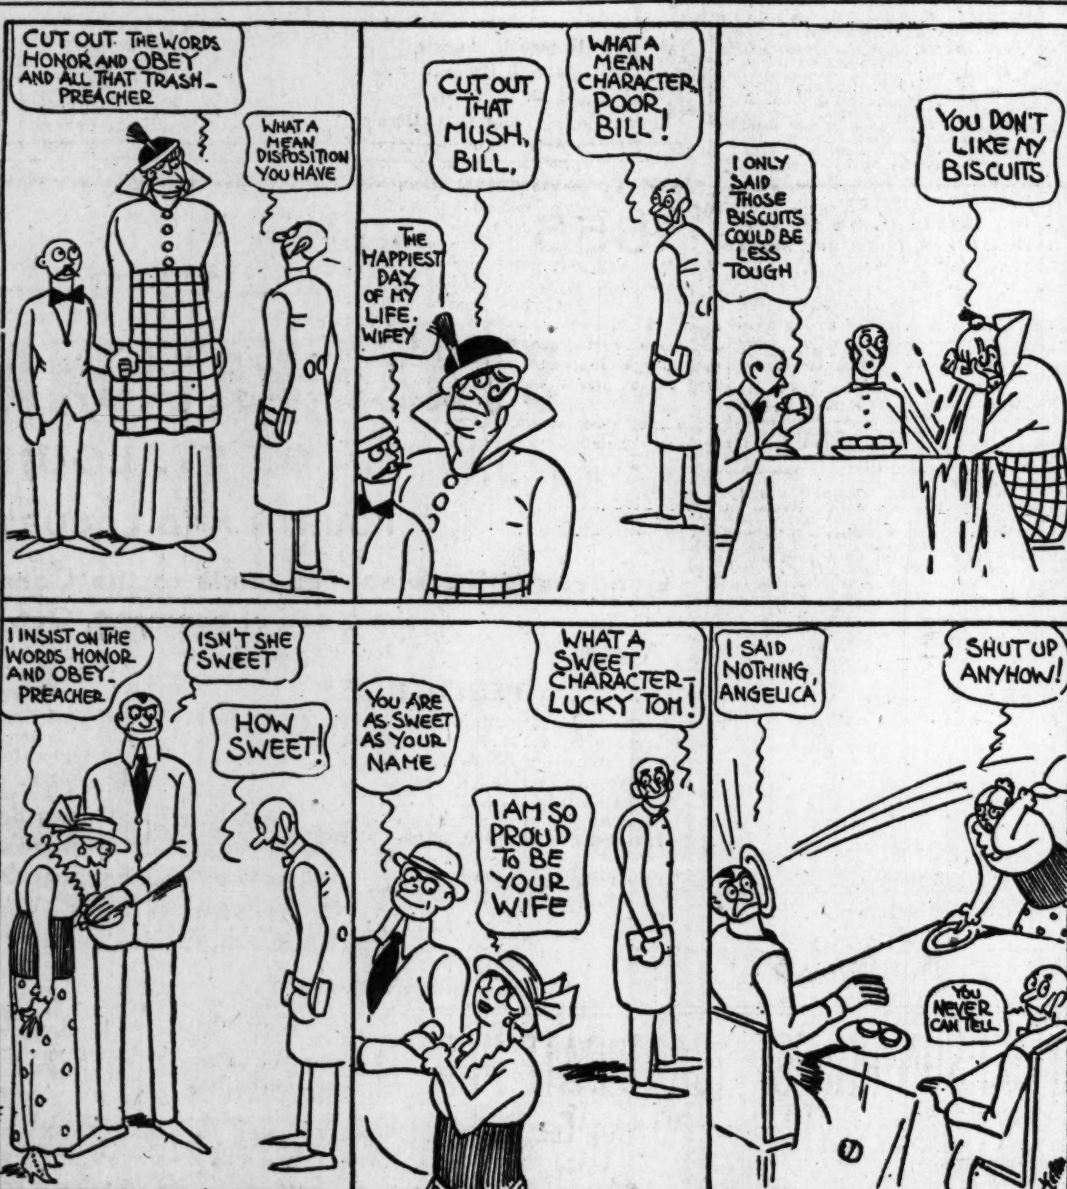

They all went out to the doorway to look at the low, rakish, eight-cylinder Klaxxy Kar. A heavy shower was pouring down and the red coloring compound that had been applied to the car by Mr. Dredgingham to change its appearance had all washed off. This coloring matter had combined with the oil from the engine that had also run down on the grass plot, rendering the mixture indelible.

"It ain't such a much!" said Mr. Blodger, regarding it indifferently. "But where am I going to get gasoline for it? Miss Sally, gimme 10 cents!"

"Oh, well, take it!" said Mrs. Blodger, fishing a dime from a small bag she wore in the bosom of her dress.

You Never Can Tell

Spoiling the Compliment.

A MINISTER was once preaching at a little chapel on the subject of "Giving." During the sermon his heart was rejoiced by the fact that a member of the congregation went to the side of the chapel and placed a coin in a box, and a little later another did the same.

Surely, the minister thought, his sermons had never met with so practical a response before.

On leaving he was accosted by one of the brethren, who said:

"I hope we didn't disturb you, sir, but ours is a penny-in-the-slot meter, and we should have been in darkness if we hadn't attended to it."

Love in a cottage should never slam the door.

"But I can see that automobile is going to be a dreadful expense! Can't it be run with something else? There's a quart bottle of household ammonia in the kitchen that ain't never been opened!"

DANDRUFFY HEADS BECOME HAIRLESS

Scalp Dries—Chokes Out the Hair and Prevents Its Growth.

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will be silky, fluffy, lustrous, soft and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—ADV.

What She Wanted.

A WOMAN in the country papers for a "handy man."

"What I want," she said to the first applicant, "is a man that will do odd jobs about the house, run errands, one that never answers back and is always ready to do what I want."

"Ah," said the applicant as he turned away. "It's a husband you're looking for, ma'am."

The poor fellow who is neutral has to listen to the man who isn't! tells him all about it.—Toledo Blade.

MOTHER SUPER-OR ROSARY HILL HOME

Tells How Vinol Restores Strength and Vitality to the Weak, Worn-Out Ones in Her Charge.

"I have been at work among the sick poor for nearly eighteen years, and whenever I have used Vinol for rundown, weak or emaciated patients, they have been visibly benefited by it. One patient, a young woman, was so weak and ill she could hardly creep to my door for aid, and was leaning on a friend's arm. I supplied Vinol to her liberally and in a month when she returned to thank me I hardly recognized her. She was strong, her color charming and her cheeks rounded out. These words are uttered from my heart, in order that more people may know about Vinol, as there is nothing makes me happier in the world than to relieve the sick."—Mother M. Alphonsa Lathrop, S. D. Hawthorne, N. Y.

Such disinterested and reliable testimony should convince everyone of the merits of Vinol, our delicious oil liver and iron tonic to build up health and strength for all weakened and nervous conditions, whether arising from overwork, worry or chronic coughs and colds. If Vinol fails to benefit we return your money.

Strictly Business

SHE was a remarkably pretty girl, he a very busy man.

"You write the sweetest love letters, dear," she said. "I do love to think that in the middle of all your business you remember me."

"Naturally, I don't forget you," he replied. "My secretary, a most capable young man, has orders to write you a letter for me to sign every morning."

"And the flowers and chocolates you send me twice a week are just my favorites."

"That's so? I told my secretary to send them every Tuesday and Friday. Glad you like them. My secretary, as I said before, is a very capable young fellow."

Three months later the busy man was found gnashing his teeth in his office. "Dash it!" he was saying. "I don't mind the fellow eloping with my girl but it will take me months to break in another secretary!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Source of Supply.

SOME time ago the teacher of a public school was instructing a class in geography, and when it came time to hand out a few questions she turned first to Willie Smith.

"Willie," said she, "can you tell me what is one of the principal products of the West Indies?"

"No, ma'am," frankly answered Willie, after a moment's hesitation. "Just think a bit," encouragingly returned the teacher; "where does the sugar come from that you use at your house?"

"Sometimes from the store," answered Willie, "and sometimes we borrow it from the next-door neighbor."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Modern Redskins.

IS your part of the country as wild as woolly as ever?

"Just about. Only last week I saw a friend of mine have a very narrow escape from a band of infuriated Indians. He made a remark that disgusted them and about nine of them rushed at him, some carrying clubs."

"What did he do?"

"He merely said 'play ball, or I'll fine every one of you; and they played.'"
